Big City Salute To Cooper With Ticker Tape Flying

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of New Yorkers cheered astronaut Gordon Cooper today along Broadway in a tumultuous ticker tape parade—the city's salute to national heroes.

A maelstrom of tape, confetti and torn paper swirled from skyscrapers in the city's tribute to the smiling Air Force major who last week orbited the earth 22 times.

Crowds jammed the sidewalks of the "Canyon of Heroes" and workers leaned from office windows, shouting their acclaim.

A crowd swarmed around Cooper's open car at the very start of the parade from Bowling Green to City Hall.

Even before the 20-car motorcade reached Bowling Green, the official starting point, the crowds along the streets were in a turmoil. Police had difficulty clearing the way.

The slim spaceman sat in the rear of the car, smiling and waving as the police struggled with the throngs.

Dozens of persons broke through Cooper's "Wonderful job, Coop," "Wonderful job, Coop," and "Go, go, Gordon."

Four Children Unaware Parents Mishap Victims

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four children are in a hospital—unaware their parents were killed in an auto accident—while the coroner's office searches for a relative.

The father, Otha Williams, 31, and his wife, Lorine, 27, died Monday night when their car hit a railroad signal. Three of the children were seriously injured.

The coroner's office sent two telegrams Tuesday to the mother of each parent. Both live in St. Louis. They are Mrs. Frankie Handen, of 3841 Finney Ave. and Mrs. Lamie Harper, 3032 Thomas St.

Neither wire drew an immediate reply.

When the oldest youngster, Richard, 12, was asked who his close relatives are, he replied: "Why don't you ask my mother these questions?"

Doctors requested officers not to tell the children about the death of their parents.

House In Wrestle With Sunday Sales Law to No Avail

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House wrestled for more than two hours today without avail in its effort to pass a Sunday sales law.

As the House quit for lunch it had rejected a half dozen amendments, including ones to:

Make it a misdemeanor to buy, as well as sell, banned items on Sunday, bar the sale of 3.2 beer on Sunday, prevent barbers from working on Sunday and bar the sale of food except in small stores doing less than $500 average daily gross business.

May Go to Voters

School Bus Plan Action Deferred

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The House Constitutional amendments Committee deferred action Tuesday night on a proposed constitutional change to give state aid to the transportation of private and parochial students. The committee promised to act today.

During a three hour hearing in which both sides were heard bitter feelings were expressed only once.

Near the close of the hearing Speaker Thomas D. Graham, D-Cole County, rose to denounce angrily a "Johnny come lately" who had criticized him for sending an earlier bill to the House Judiciary Committee.

He said he had not made a deal to send the bill to the committee. Graham, red-faced and repeating "Johnny come lately" frequently, said he would not vote for any measure which would help any church, not even his own.

But, he said, he believed the pending constitutional change would not be in aid to the Catholic Church. And he told the crowded House assembly he had been in favor of such legislation all the 13 years he has been a legislator.

He told the committee the issue was whether a parochial school could operate without bus transportation. If it cannot, he said, the constitutional change should be submitted to the voters of the state.

Graham was defended at the start of the hearing by Rep. Thomas A. Walsh, D-St. Louis, author of the proposed amendment.

A thousand or more persons were present for the hearing Tuesday night. Slightly more than half announced their opposition to the measure.

The Weather

Fair and colder tonight with frost likely; lows in low and middle 30s; sunny and warmer Thursday with highs around 70; light northerly winds.

The temperature Wednesday was 46 at 7 a.m., and 60 at 1 p.m. Low Tuesday night 38.

The temperature one year ago today was high 89; low 72; two years ago, high 65; low 48; three years ago, high 87; low 52.

Lake of Ozark stage: 56.0 feet; 4.0 below full reservoir. No change.

Fireworks Set Off Near Jail

It was all quiet on the "West Second Street Front" shortly after 10 o'clock, when the first of a series of blasts was heard at 10:28 p.m. and quickly followed by several others. The blasts were believed to have been "set" by friends of boys confined to the city jail to break the monotony of loneliness of the jail cells.

Police officers dashed out of the police station in hopes of seeing who the person or persons were that was creating the disturbance and violating the city ordinance prohibiting shooting fireworks within the city limits. But the fuses were apparently long enough to burn for awhile and give the youngsters a chance to make a successful get-away.

The "blasts" were a cluster of five aerial bombs. One placed in the alley beside the jail, another cluster fired off of the city scales, another in the alley across Second Street from the police station; another on the parking lot at Second and Osage. Others were discharged but the "remains" were not located.

Several nights ago one series of a cluster of fireworks was "set" on the used car lot of the Routsong Motor Co., in back of the jail.

Corn Under Support Program Decreases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported 531,962,257 bushels of 1962 crop corn were put under price support loans and purchase agreements through April.

A year earlier, 548,522,405 bushels of 1961 crop corn had been under support. During April, farmers put 27,891,642 bushels of 1962 crop corn under support, compared to 39,797,930 bushels in March. Farmers in most areas have through May 31 to put 1962 crop corn under support and the loan maturity date is July 31.

$15,000 Damage Is Done by Fire

The Sedalia fire companies were tied up for more than four hours Tuesday afternoon battling and cleaning up a fire at the family residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pryce Fowler, 14th and State Fair Blvd., which did several thousands of dollars damage. Luckily, it was explained by fire department officials, there weren't any fire calls to the east side of Sedalia or elsewhere in the city at the time.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Frank Chaney, 1316 New England Drive. It was shortly before 2 o'clock when she looked over toward State Fair Blvd. from her home and noticed smoke coming from the chimney of the house and a haze around it. She went to the home to investigate, knowing the family was not at home, and trying the doors, and smelling the wood smoke, she hurriedly returned to her own home and turned in the fire alarm. The alarm was received at 1:57 p.m.

As the fire companies pulled up at the residence they first pulled off the booster lines from the trucks, and by the time they had gained entrance to the place they realized a heavier line of hose had to be laid from the fire plug on the corner and two leader lines were quickly put into action. Assistant Chief George Smethers and one of the firemen went to the

Rule Shooting Of Woman As Accidental

Benny M. Carter, 724 West Cooper, held overnight in the city jail for investigation into the circumstances surrounding the shooting of Mrs. Helen Carter, same address, early Wednesday morning, has been released without charge.

Mrs. Carter was listed in critical condition at Bothwell Hospital Wednesday noon.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin said he released Carter after talking the matter over with Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz. Hamlin said they determined that the shooting was accidental.

According to statements given Chief Hamlin early today, the shooting took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Ford, 728 West Cooper, next door neighbors of the Carters. Information given the chief was to the effect that the two couples had been together during the early part of the evening and went to the Ford

'No' On Wheat

Raises Cloud Of Confusion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat growers have sounded a loud "no" to President Kennedy's program for stricter controls on their crops, raising a cloud of confusion over the nation's farmland.

The administration's program, which needed two-thirds of the vote in Tuesday's referendum, failed even to muster a majority, getting only 47.8 per cent of the 1.14 million votes cast.

Missouri Vote Not As Strong As Expected

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—A majority of wheat farmers voted for the Kennedy administration's 1964 program in Missouri Tuesday, but the outcome still fell short of the 66.7 per cent needed for passage. The final count was 55,086 in favor and 29,841 opposed—64.9 per cent of the total vote. There were 3,596 challenged ballots.

Neighboring Kansas, where wheat farms are bigger and operators fewer, was only 41.8 per cent in favor of the program. The national average was 47 per cent.

Wallace Out To Block Any Court Action

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace, thrusting state sovereignty into the path of federal authority, has set out to block court-ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama.

The youthful Alabama governor laid his constitutional authority on the line Tuesday after the university board of trustees had agreed to admit two Negroes and U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms refused to delay the June 10 enrollment.

"I embody the sovereignty of this state," declared Wallace, a veteran of battles with the federal government, "and I will be present to bar the entrance of any Negro who seeks to enroll at the university."

Thus, Wallace embarked upon the same course followed last fall by Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi who barred Negro James H. Meredith from the University of Mississippi. Meredith later enrolled behind federal forces.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, a political foe of Wallace, warned defiance of federal court orders may lead to violence. He said those who defy such orders may be to blame if federal troops are used in Alabama as they were in Mississippi.

But farmers who rejected the program of high price supports and tight controls on production in hopes Congress would write new legislation this year got a jolt from the reaction of the administration.

Tuesday's referendum means an alternative program of low price supports for those who voluntarily cut production—but none

The Pettis County ASC office reported late Tuesday that 770 farmers in the county voted for the program and 663 opposed it. This fell short of the majority required to pass the measure. The ASC office said there are 152 "challenged" ballots those belonging to persons who voted in districts in which they were not registered, and there are also 32 absentee ballots.

for those who reject any acreage controls — will govern the 1964 wheat crop.

Administration spokesmen, from Kennedy on down, made it clear they plan to hold the farmers to their choice.

Kennedy said the administration accepts the judgment of the wheat farmers, who "voted for the right to produce whatever they desire in 1964, for whatever the market will pay, rather than for higher prices and limited production."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who before the vote said defeat of the administration plan would be "chaotic," said flatly today the alternative provided by the referendum "will be in effect for the 1964 wheat crop."

"The point of view which prevailed in the referendum is entitled to a full and fair trial," he said.

Campaign Of Fear By Russia

In Opposition To Nuclear Subs In Mediterranean

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has started a campaign of fear propaganda in an effort to arouse opposition in North Africa, the Middle East and southern Europe against the operation of U. S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean.

The campaign was timed to begin with the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council in Ottawa but the real purpose as seen by U.S. officials is to stir up fear of nuclear war around the shores of the Mediterranean.

The kickoff was a Moscow note delivered to the State Department Monday night. It was also sent to a number of other countries including those in the Mediterranean area.

The note proposed that the great sea between Europe and Africa be declared a "zone free of nuclear missiles."

The Russians said they are prepared to join with the West in "reliable guarantees that the area of the Mediterranean Sea would be regarded, in case of any military complications, as being outside the sphere of nuclear weapons."

The note said that if the Western powers did not go along with its proposal, then Russia would have no choice but to keep its rockets aimed at the Polaris patrol routes, at Western-aligned nations on the Mediterranean and at Polaris submarine bases. Nor would any of the neutral nations in the area be safe in event of conflict, the Russians added.

Three Polaris submarines have been assigned to the Mediterranean to help guard the southern flank of the NATO area. They are replacing land-based nuclear missile installations in Turkey and Italy.

President Kennedy has said the replacement means an increase in effective firepower since the Polaris missiles—16 per submarine—are more modern and less vulnerable than the older land-based weapons.

The State Department dismissed the eight-page Soviet note as a propaganda document delivered "on the eve of the NATO meeting."

"What the Soviets are proposing," the department said in a statement, "is that we eliminate our seaborne nuclear capacity in the Mediterranean which is one of NATO's most effective counters to repeated Soviet threats to use their own nuclear weapons against members of the NATO alliance."

Linda Rank Wins First Free Trip

Linda Rank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay G. Williams, 414 Dal-Whi-Mo, was the winner of the first vacation trip, sponsored by the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Linda, who is employed at Tom Adams' Record Shop, was so excited over winning the week's vacation at Bow Bell Resort, on the clear-water Gravois arm area of the Lake of the Ozarks, that she couldn't give detailed plans yet, but since it was a vacation trip for four, she was going to ask three girl friends to go with her, she wasn't sure who. The trip includes a car to use on the trip and groceries. This is the first of three trips being offered, the second drawing to be Thursday at 4 p.m. and the last one at 10 a.m. Monday.

Many other gifts were given at the first drawing in the Fun in the Sun promotion by the merchants and are as follows: F. M. Nicholas, Terry Hotel, B&B Shoe Co., ladies Kodettes; Robert J. Burke, 111 Norris, LaMonte, Sedalia School of Hairdressing, permanent and styling; Edna Sullivan, Route 1, Sedalia, Cook Paint and Varnish, badminton set; Mrs. Edna Klein, 127 South Park, Burkholder's, GE coffee maker; Sharon Siron, 400 North Park, Home-maker's, 809 South Limit, lawn

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you persist in calling people "Toots," "Lamb-Chop," "Bub," "Petunia," "Buster," "Honey-Bun" and a countless other equally undignified names?

Surely you must be aware that SOME people who write to you are older than you are and therefore entitled to respect. How do you think a 70-year-old grandmother feels when you refer to her as "Toots?"

Recently my father-in-law wrote to you and he did not sign his name. I recognized his letter because I happened to know of his problem. I admit the situation he described sounded like that of a much younger man, but he is a gentleman 68 years of age. In your reply to him you called him "Buddy Boy."

Your advice is excellent but your sarcasm and smart-aleck approach to your correspondents is a bit much.—TO THE POINT.

New Terrorist Moves Flare in Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP) — Authorities said Tuesday a new wave of terrorist activity attributed to pro-Communist groups has broken out.

Four bombs exploded in various sectors of the city over the weekend. One explosion took place at a building housing the U.S. military mission. No one was injured and damage was slight.

Police said one bomb was set off at the home of Col. Hector Medina, who represents the government on negotiations for foreign aid and trade.

History To Repeat In Hannibal

By GENE HOENES
HANNIBAL COURIER-POST
Written for The Associated Press
HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—Featuring a different cast but with the same backdrop of the world-famous boyhood home town of Mark Twain, history will repeat itself here Friday, May 24.

President John F. Kennedy will touch a gold key at the White House which will light a powerful beacon in the new Mark Twain Memorial Lighthouse on Cardiff Hill in Hannibal.

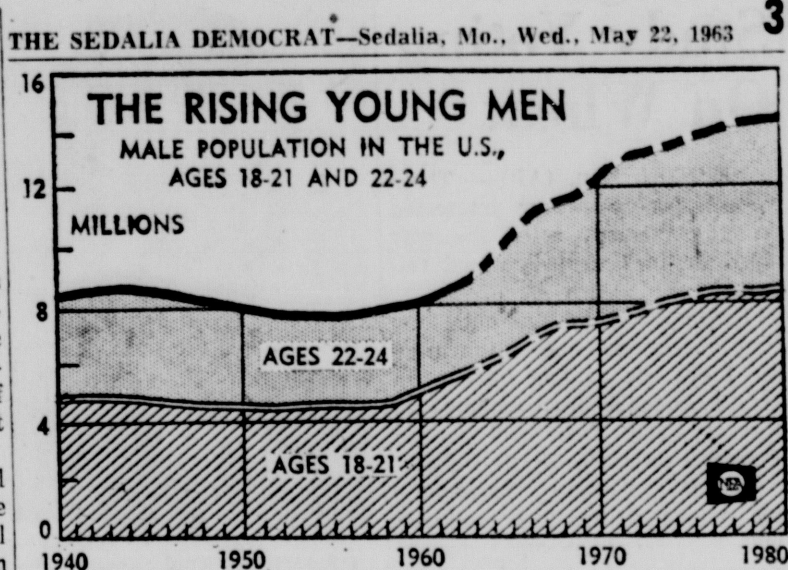

A similar event took place Jan. 15, 1935, when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt participated in the lighting of the original lighthouse to initiate a year-long celebration, marking the 100th anniversary of the birth of Samuel L. Clemens, who as Mark Twain became the nation's beloved humorist-philosopher.

The first lighthouse stood until June, 1960, when it was demolished in a windstorm.

Townpeople and thousands of visitors to this tourist mecca demanded that the lighthouse be rebuilt. The city has about 225,000 tourists each year at the various points made famous by the writer.

Last fall the Hannibal Courier-Post spearheaded a citywide campaign for contributions to rebuild the lighthouse at the north end of town where Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn and Becky Thatcher often played.

The campaign was a success with hundreds of individuals, business firms and organizations contributing. The newspaper's publisher, E. L. Sparks Jr., headed the special citizens committee which worked on the drive.

GOOD NEWS FOR GIRLS—The number of men between the ages of 18 and 24 in the U.S. is expected to increase sharply in coming years. Reflecting the post-World War II baby boom, their numbers will probably grow from nearly one million at present to 12¼ million in 1970 and possibly 4½ million by 1980. Newsmap above, based on data from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., shows the present and projected growth of men in two categories, ages 18 to 21 and 22 to 24.

The new white shaft atop picturesque Cardiff Hill was completed early this year and includes a powerful lamp contributed by the U.S. Coast Guard. The stationary beam will be directed over the Mississippi River, beckoning tourists to stop at historic Hannibal.

The lighthouse, of Cape Cod style, is believed to be the only one located along the Father of Waters. It is about 40 feet high and 15 feet wide at the base.

From the hill the tourist can get an excellent view of the river: Jackson Island where Tom and Huck played; Lover's Leap; Illinois farmland; the imposing Mark Twain Memorial bridge across the river; the north part of the city where the boyhood home of Mark Twain and the museum are located and two old sternwheelers in the river.

In addition to the Washington end of the ceremony Friday, a local ceremony will be held with Publisher Sparks officially presenting the new lighthouse to the city.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Frigid, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge...small, easy-to-take tablets...special sizes for children and adults.

No Sign Of Greensboro Unrest Check

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Racial unrest showed no sign of subsiding here today as more than 900 Negro students were released from jail to the custody of North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College.

But some progress was reported in racial disputes elsewhere in the state.

A court order issued at the suggestion of Gov. Terry Sanford virtually cleared three temporary jails set up in Greensboro to house more than 1,200 persons, held on various charges resulting from racial demonstrations.

More than 1,500 persons have been arrested during the last week.

The college students were placed in custody of Dr. L. C. Dowdy, acting president of the state-supported college. They were ordered to appear in court for trials beginning Thursday.

Included among those released were 162 persons—including several juveniles—arrested during demonstrations Tuesday night. Approximately 300 other demonstrators, mostly Bennett College students, remained in jail.

Officers set up a three-hour shuttle relay starting about 12:30 a.m. to move the students from a former polio hospital and the Greensboro War Memorial Coliseum to the A&T College campus.

Nearly 250 students housed in an armory were released early Tuesday night. Many of the girls sobbed as they left the converted hospital building. Several male students staged a sitdown for nearly an hour to assure the release of the coeds first.

JFK Will Push Key to Light Twain Beacon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is going to push a golden telegraph key Friday night and the Mark Twain Memorial Light-house will be back in business on Cardiff Hill, overlooking the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Mo.

Kennedy will press the key at the annual White House Press dinner in his honor.

The dinner has nothing to do with the lighthouse. It just happens that Hannibal will be having some ceremonies of its own at that time, so the key-pushing will be worked into the dinner program.

The lighthouse was lighted Jan. 15, 1935, when Franklin D. Roosevelt pushed another key starting a year-long celebration of the 100th anniversary of Mark Twain's birth. The famed humorist, whose real name was Samuel L. Clemens, spent his boyhood at Hannibal, and some of his most noted stories were set in that area.

The lighthouse was destroyed by violent winds nearly three years ago. It has been rebuilt with public funds in a campaign sponsored by the Hannibal Courier-Post.

OBITUARIES

Mary I. Payne (Sedalia)

Mrs. Mary I. Payne, 82, Route 5, wife of G. M. Payne, died at her home at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday. She had been in failing health for several years.

She was born in Shelby County, Feb. 12, 1881, daughter of the late Levi and Phoebe Jefferson Hillgoss. The family came to Pettis County when she was a young girl and she had lived practically all of her life in this county.

One of a family of nine children, she was preceded in death by all of her brothers and sisters. She was married in Pettis County, Feb. 23, 1898, to Golden M. Payne. They were the parents of five children. A daughter, Mrs. Grace Hoehns, died Oct. 23, 1960.

Mrs. Payne was a member of the Hopewell Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, G. M. Payne; one son, Earl Payne, 1312 East 29th; three daughters, Mrs. L. B. (Irene) Hammond, Star Route; Mrs. Clara (Gladys) Williams, Route 5; Mrs. Gordon (Marian) Greer, Route 5; 18 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at the Ewing Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold will officiate.

Burial will be in the Hopewell Cemetery.

English made the award this afternoon at the annual Honors Day Assembly of the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Kennedy Clan Spends Hour In Fun Park

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I got little Jack right on the button," boasted Kelly Green, weigher of people. "Thirty-three pounds exactly."

"Little Jack" is John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., 2½-year-old son of the President.

The scarlet-clad youngster playfully romped Tuesday through the amusement park in suburban Glen Echo, Md., with his sister, Caroline, 5, and his cousin, Steve Smith, 5.

Young John's mother, Jacqueline, 34, also was there. Expecting a baby in August, she did not romp. But she did walk through the mirror-maze. And she did manage to get cotton candy on her white coat. So did the President's sister, Mrs. Stephen Smith, young Steve's mother.

The first family—minus one—chose a cloudy, uncrowded weekday afternoon and were rewarded with near-privacy for an entire hour.

Little John fired a water pistol into a hole, aided by his mother. He fired a real rifle at a metal duck, aided by a Secret Service man. He hit it.

Green, who has been guessing weights at Glen Echo for a dozen years, overshot Caroline by two pounds when he guessed 56. And he guessed 54-pound Steve Smith weighed 55. Then he turned to the First Lady.

"You're next," Kelly Green said.

"Oh, no," Jacqueline Kennedy said.

Park officials had had no warning of the Kennedys' visit. One official said Caroline had made the trip once before, but not with her mother. He said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his children are frequent visitors to Glen Echo.

It was Mrs. Kennedy's second public appearance of the day. Earlier, with John Jr. in her arms, she had emerged from the White House to have a last word with Astronaut Gordon Cooper before the space hero embarked on his triumphal motorcade to the capital.

The First Lady has canceled her social schedule and has made only rare public appearances since the public announcement of her pregnancy.

But Tuesday she was along for a good time. She had it—the way she likes it, without fanfare. And she promised to return—"real soon," as Caroline put it.

Wells Is Speaker At Optimists Meet

LeRoy Wells, owner of LeRoy's Steak House, who was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, gave an interesting talk on computers and his work with them while employed with the University of California computers project at Los Alamos. Los Alamos is the home of the "A" bomb, he said. In 1942 two men took a trip and found the climate right and the section well isolated, 40 miles southwest of Santa Fe. This was the place they selected as the site of the atomic-bomb laboratory.

Wells went on to explain the computer, how it was operated and what could be done with it. This machine, he said, could be given 40,000 problems which it could do in one second. He stated that it used the binary system, 0 and 1, in code, but that it was given regular numbers or words. This code came out on tape or on cards, whichever was desired.

The meeting was presided over by Richard Witig, president, and Lee Deason gave the invocation. Joe Forsead led the group singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

The fireworks stand, which is always a project of the club, was discussed.

Police investigated a two-car accident about 5:18 p.m. Tuesday at Sixth and New York.

Involved were a 1956 Ford, driven south on New York by Mattie Elmes, 25, 1819 South Barrett, and a 1957 Ford, driven east on Sixth by Patricia Thomason, 30, 1701 East Seventh.

The front of the 1956 Ford and the left side of the 1957 Ford were damaged.

Stephen Thomason, a passenger in the 1957 Ford, was taken to Bothwell Hospital, where he was examined by Dr. A. L. Lowe and later released. He was not injured.

Both drivers were given police summons for careless and imprudent driving and are to appear in police court, May 22.

A rural Sedalia woman, Mrs. Gladys Montony, 24, of Route 5, was injured in a three-car accident on Highway 50 about a half-mile west of Lone Jack at 9:35 a.m. Wednesday morning.

According to Troop A Highway Patrol headquarters in Lee's Summit, Martin Williams, 72, had stopped his westbound 1957 Chevrolet for a flagman for a construction company doing road repairs on the highway.

Mrs. Montony stopped her 1963 Ford behind the Williams car.

The Montony car was struck in the rear, the patrol said, by a 1957 Dodge driven by Charles Wilson, 67, of Broadway Arms apartments, Sedalia. The Montony auto was in turn knocked into the rear of the Williams car.

Mrs. Montony was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City with a back injury, the patrol reported.

A 1958 Oldsmobile driven by Paul Lee Denton, Box 801, Sedalia, and a 1956 Chevrolet driven by G. Foster, 1412 New England Drive, were involved in an accident at the intersection of Broadway and Ohio at 7:18 a.m. Wednesday.

According to the accident report, the accident occurred while the blinking red and yellow traffic lights were still on. The front of the Oldsmobile and the left side of the Chevrolet were damaged. There were no apparent injuries.

A 1956 Ford station wagon and a 1957 Chevrolet were involved in an accident at Sixth and New York at 5:18 p.m. Tuesday. The station wagon was being driven by Mattie Elmes, 1819 South Barrett, and the Chevrolet was being driven by Patricia Thomason, 1701 East Seventh.

The front of the station wagon and the left side of the Chevrolet were damaged.

Lucille Gray, 56, 520 West Clay, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday morning for an injured left hand suffered when she got the hand caught in a car door sometime Tuesday. She was treated by Dr. A. J. Campbell then released.

Police Court

Patricia Jo Kroeger, Route 2, charged with careless and imprudent driving in connection with an accident, pleaded innocent and was found innocent.

The case of Herbert E. Bernahl, Stafford, charged with vagrancy, was dismissed.

Patricia Ann Thomason, 1701 East Seventh, charged with careless and imprudent driving in connection with an accident, pleaded innocent, but was found guilty and fined $20.

Mattie Lou Elmes, 1819 South Barrett, charged with careless and imprudent driving in connection with an accident, pleaded innocent, but was found guilty and fined $20.

J. H. Fugate, Wichita, Kan., charged with parking on Ohio between 2 and 5 a.m., forfeited his $2 bond.

Magistrate Court—Delores Thompson, charged with being drunk and disorderly during graduation ceremonies at Anderson School May 17, pleaded innocent but was found guilty and sentenced to 15 days in jail. She was placed on parole, with the length of parole depending on her good behavior.

College Profs Study Voting On Wheat

NEWTON, Kan. (AP)—Three college professors are interested in why farmers voted the way they did in Tuesday's wheat referendum.

In an effort to find out, they had interviewers question farmers as they left polling places in Harvey and Kearny counties in Kansas, and Cass and Grand Forks counties in North Dakota.

In Harvey County, where Newton is located, two girls equipped with tape recorders and questionnaires talked to the wheat producers.

The farmers weren't asked to give their names; but if they consented, their replies to questions on farming and how they voted were recorded. If they didn't want to talk, they were handed a three-page questionnaire and a stamped envelope addressed to Dr. Don F. Hadwiger, associate professor of government at Iowa State University.

Dr. Hadwiger said they undertook the survey "to better understand the wheat referendum and referendums in general. Much of the information will be used as part of a case study of the agricultural act of 1962."

He added that post-election studies would be conducted in selected counties in Kansas, Oklahoma and Illinois.

The Agriculture Department said in Washington that Hadwiger was given permission to proceed with interviews, questionnaires and follow-up interviews as long as there was no interference with the referendum.

Dr. Hadwiger said the project is being financed by the professors personally and by a grant from the Stern Family Foundation with headquarters in Washington.

home where Mrs. Ford made sandwiches.

Conversation, according to the officers, turned to hunting and fishing during which Carter remarked of a new gun his wife had bought him. He went to his home and brought it back to the Ford home and was showing it to others when he accidentally pulled the trigger and the gun fired.

Mrs. Carter, who was sitting on a divan, was struck by the bullet. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the hand, entered her mouth, nicking the lower lip and knocked out two front teeth. A portion of the bullet lodged in the lower lip and another portion appeared to have went through the mouth nicking the tongue and lodged in the fleshy part of the back of the neck.

She was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ford family's car, accompanied by her husband and other friends who were at the home. Dr. A. R. Maddox was called and rendered medical treatment and had X-ray pictures taken, which revealed the location of the two pieces of bullet. He indicated he would remove the bullet pieces Tuesday, depending on how she responded to treatment to build up blood she had lost before reaching the hospital.

Hamlin talked to Mr. and Mrs. Ford, James Everett, and Carter, who were in the living room at the time of the shooting.

Anniversary Banquet By Baptist Union

One of the May features of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church was the anniversary banquet held May 14, in commemoration of the 75th birthday of the WMU and the 50th birthday of the Girls' Auxiliary, a missionary organization for girls 9 through 15 years of age. The theme was: "Those Wonderful Years" and many of the women were dressed in the fashions of the 1880's.

Serving as emcee was Mrs. Nathalia Poynter, and the program was divided into periods of ten years from 1888 to the present time. Mrs. Poynter gave historical facts as she introduced each era.

The program began with the GA members dressed in green skirts and white blouses singing their special Golden Anniversary song.

Then Miss June DeWitt and Mrs. Fred Arbogast sang a parody on "Dearie, Do You Remember?" which recalled many special events and facts of WMU since 1888.

This was followed by songs popular in each of the ten year era: 1888, "I've Been Working on the Railroad," and 1890-1900, "Daisy, Daisy," with the group singing under the direction of Miss DeWitt, 1901-1910, Mrs. Jim Reed sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" with Mrs. Clyde Williams accompanied; 1911-1920, the group sang, "Let Me Call You Lizzy" and "Tipperary," 1921-1930, Miss Royetta Nichols and Miss Leslie Ann Morton sang "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," 1931-1940, Miss DeWitt sang "God Bless America"; 1941-1950, Miss Elizabeth Fisher sang, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You"; 1951-1960, the group sang "Calorie Count or No?" and 1961-1963, Mrs. Stanley Fisher and Mrs. Jim Reed sang, "It Took a Miracle." Mrs. Clyde Williams, Mrs. Larry Owens and Mrs. Fisher were accompanists.

Following each song Mrs. William Reed told interesting facts about the history of the church and the missionary organizations, giving as far as possible the names of the women who served as presidents during that period.

Mrs. Poynter called attention to the fact that the WMU was organized about the time that the statue of liberty was given to the United States. Mrs. William Reed reported that the First Sedalia Church was then about 23 years old and that the first record of a Woman's Missionary Society was in 1887 with Mrs. Samuel Wright as president. Mrs. Robert Phelan added many interesting comments concerning the early years of missionary activity in the church.

The first report of the Girls' Auxiliary was found in the 1922 minutes.

The past presidents who were in attendance gave highlights of their term of service: Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. E. C. Martin, Mrs. E. L. Hall, Mrs. T. W. Croxton of Jefferson City, Mrs. George Curran, Mrs. Earl Thomas and Mrs. Dean Morton. Letters were read from Mrs. W. D. Kuykendall of St. Louis and Mrs. R. B. Ruppard, Dallas Texas. Other living past presidents are Mrs. Iva Hoffman and Mrs. Charles J. Hofheins.

At the close of the history a moment of silence was observed and Mrs. William Reed paid tribute to all women who have worked

BOYS CLUB NOTES

New members are Bill Bennett and Carl Bopp.

Jim Lewis broke the junior weight lifting record with a two hand jerk of 150 pounds. Several of the members of the class have reached over 100 pounds in this type of lift. The class is in charge of Gordon Strain and the juniors have a class of 15.

In the softball game Saturday morning the Reds defeated the Blues by a score of 3 to 2. The medium type of pitch was used which is being used throughout Boys Clubs. The ball is thrown with medium speed which enables the players to hit the ball better and affords more fielding chances.

A marble tournament will be held Saturday to decide the marble champion of the Sedalia Boys Club. There will be three classes, group A, 13 or above; B group from 10 through 12, and C group, 9 or below. First prize in each division will be 15 minutes on the trampoline, second prize in all divisions 8-15 minutes on the trampoline and third prize in each division 4 to 15 minutes on the trampoline. ## 'Ben Hur' Is Banned From Algiers Screens

ALGIERS (AP)—"Ben Hur" has apparently run his last chariot race in independent Algeria.

Two Algiers theaters and one in Oran began showing the film three days ago. Tuesday they were notified it could not be shown. Unofficial sources said it was because the film is judged to be too favorable to Hebrews for this Moslem nation.

through the years to promote missions through the organization.

Mrs. Terry Pile, director of the Girls' Auxiliary was recognized and introduced her counselors. Mrs. R. L. Momborg presented the officers of WMU and mentioned some of the attainments during her term of service.

The program closed with a clever skit entitled, "Then and Now," pantomimed by Mrs. John Goddard and Mrs. Armand Weaver with Mrs. John St. Clair and Mrs. J. R. Wallace as readers.

The invocation was given by Mrs. R. L. Momborg, WMU president, and the benediction by Rev. J. R. Wallace, pastor of the church.

Spring flowers, candles and colorful dolls in authentic costumes, were used as table decorations and the programs were silhouettes of the girls of 1888 period in the 1880's. An interesting table held antique lamps, portraits and other items of historical value.

Knob Noster High School Graduates 48

"An Excellent Spirit Was in Him," was the text of the Rev. Walter Long's baccalaureate sermon at Knob Noster High School Sunday, May 19. The service was in the senior high school auditorium.

Wearing blue caps and gowns, the 48 members of the class entered as Donna Costigan played "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar. Invocation was by the Rev. John Leeper, pastor of the Christian Church. Elder Paul Burgess of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints read the scripture lesson. The Rev. Kenneth Diehl, pastor of the Methodist Church gave the benediction. Graduates were escorted to their seats by Judy Wharton and Gary Kuhlman, juniors.

The congregation sang "Lead On, O King Eternal," "I May Never Pass This Way Again" by Melsher was sung by the high school choir, as was "I Know My Redeemer Liveth" Handel. Madrigals sang "We Shall Walk Through the Valley of Peace" by Hooper. Mrs. Eugene Ward was accompanist.

Former Kansas Governor Is Accused of Taking a Payoff

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Did Fred Hall, former governor of Kansas, accept $10,000 in exchange for freeing a woman from prison?

Hall, now executive vice president of the California Worlds Fair, denied in U.S. District Court Tuesday that he even talked to anybody about money in connection with a pardon or parole for Mrs. Annas Brown.

Mrs. Brown, paroled in August 1955 while serving a term for manslaughter in connection with an abortion, testified she gave her attorney $10,000 to give Hall, then governor.

Both Hall and Mrs. Brown testified in the trial of Mack Nations, former executive secretary to Hall. The government charges Nations evaded payment of taxes on $4,900 of income in 1955. It has produced testimony that he paid off a number of debts and made a large church contribution, all in cash, shortly after the alleged payoff in the Brown case.

2 Blood Banks Criticized For Lack of Quality

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two Kansas City commercial blood banks had been criticized for lack of quality and mislabeling before the Community Blood Bank of Kansas City was established, a Federal Trade Commission hearing was told Tuesday.

The FTC hearing is on charges by the two banks that the community bank and the Kansas City Area Hospital Association violated fair trade practices by not accepting their blood.

Dr. Paul Van Pernis of Rockford, Ill., was asked whether the Midwest and World Blood banks were boycotted by the North Central District Blood Banks Clearing House.

Dr. Van Pernis, a pathologist, was president of the clearing house in 1955-56, not long after it was organized to serve blood banks in various states as an exchange center for blood credits.

The physician said the Midwest and World banks were early members of the clearing house but after complaints directors discussed whether to revoke their memberships.

"In fact, one of the members that complained was the Rockford Community blood bank with which I am associated," Dr. Van Pernis said. "We advised against accepting blood from Midwest and World banks because of their labeling practices and also because their medical direction appeared not to meet the developing high standards in blood banking."

No action was taken against the banks, Dr. Van Pernis said.

The community bank had not been organized at that time.

Meyer-Hudson Vows Exchanged Early in May

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer, Miltonvale, Kan., announce the May 9 marriage of their daughter, Phyllis Anne, to Mr. Carl Hudson, son of Mrs. Frankie Hudson, St. Joseph, at Miami, Okla.

The bride wore a ballerina length dress of white silk organza over net and taffeta, featuring short puff sleeves and satin trim bows. Her headpiece was a veil of illusion. She wore a corsage of Cypripedium orchids.

Miss Dearlene Holmes, Knob Noster, was maid of honor. She wore a shell colored jersey dress with a skirt of permanent pleats. Her matching shell tinted veil was held in place by a crown. Her corsage was white pompon chrysanthemums.

Mr. Frank D. Smith, Whiteman Air Force Base, served as best man.

The couple spent several days touring the Missouri and Arkansas Ozarks. For traveling, the bride wore a yellow sheath dress with accents of white lace and white accessories.

The couple is residing in Knob Noster.

The bride is a graduate of Miltonvale Rural High School, Miltonvale, Kan., and Brown - Mackie School of Business, Salina, Kan. She is now employed with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Whiteman Air Force Base.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Faucett High School and is now serving with the Air Force, stationed at Whiteman.

Sex Education Need Cited For Teen-age Youths

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sex education in high school and instruction in contraceptive techniques are mandatory because of the breakdown of parental control over teen-agers, says the president of the Planned Parenthood Federation.

Dr. Alan Guttmacher, a New York physician, told a news conference Tuesday. "It is unrealistic to allow the youngster to be burdened with an unwanted child. We must face facts," he added. "If we give youngsters the keys to the car and allow them to go out on their own, we must expect that some of them will go the limit."

Dr. Guttmacher said society is remiss in omitting sex education after allowing chaperoning and other outdated methods to die out.

"We teach them how to make cakes and cars," he said, "but little about the most important things in life: marriage and procreation."

Teams Cash In On Left-Handers

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's bound to be a bonanza season in the American League for Baltimore and New York—as long as the Orioles keep cashing in against left-handed pitchers and the Yankees keep getting rich against their Kansas City cousins.

The Orioles trimmed the Detroit Tigers 4-2 Tuesday night, with lefty Mickey Lolich the pitching victim in his first big league start. They've compiled an amazing 11-1 record against left-handers so far this year and 13 straight southpaws have failed to finish against them.

Mickey Mantle drove across five runs with a pair of well-tagged homers, powering the Yanks over Kansas City 7-4. That made the bombers 3-for-3 against the A's, a club they have man-handled outrageously since it moved west from Philadelphia eight years ago.

The Orioles' victory was their seventh in the last eight games and kept them tied for the league lead with the Chicago White Sox, who outlasted the Washington Senators 4-3.

In the night's other AL game, Minnesota's surging Twins poured across seven runs in the third inning and whacked Boston 8-2. The Red Sox and the A's dropped two games behind the league's co-leaders and a game behind the Yanks, who have also won seven of their last eight. The Los Angeles Angels-Indians match at Cleveland was rained out.

Baltimore nailed it down against Detroit in the sixth, breaking a 1-1 tie with two runs on singles by Al Smith and Boog Powell, a sacrifice fly by Joe Gaines, and another single by Jackie Brandt. Gaines also homered, in the second, and the Orioles added an insurance run in the eighth.

Norm Cash had a homer for the Tigers off winner Chuck Estrada, now 3-1.

Mantle poled a three-run homer in the first inning against Orlando Pena, then struck the deciding blow for the Yanks in the fifth when he connected with one on off Diego Segui. New York got 11 of its 12 hits against Pena and Segui in the first five innings. Roger Maris also homered for the Yanks, and Elston Howard rapped three singles.

Jim Bouton won for the fifth time in six decisions although he was far from overpowering. He gave up six hits, including homers by Norm Siebern and Gino Cimoli, and five walks before being replaced by Steve Hamilton in the sixth.

The Yankees' won-lost bulge over the A's in eight seasons plus now stands at 127-44.

The White Sox built up a 4-0 lead at Washington with the help of a three-run sixth inning, but barely outlasted the Senators.

Held to four hits and one run through eight innings, the Senators made it a squeaker against reliever Hoyt Wilhelm when Don Lock homered with one on in the ninth and Ken Retzer singled—all with none out. But the knuckleballer turned away the next three men, saving the victory for John Buzhardt, now 4-1.

Mike Hershberger's third single triggered the White Sox' decisive sixth. Joe Cunningham followed with a double. Floyd Robinson singled, and Ron Hansen whacked a two-run single after a walk to Dave Nicholson.

The Twins collected their seven runs in the third against Red Sox rookie star Dave Morehead and reliever Jack Lamabe on Vic Power's triple, a double by Bob Allison, four singles, two walks and a wild pitch. It paved the way for Minnesota's fifth victory in the last six games and made it a breeze for right-hander Jim Perry. He evened his record at 2-2 with an eight-inning.

Earl Battey socked a homer for the Twins, while back-to-back homers by Lu Clinton and Dick Stuart in the fourth accounted for the Boston runs.

Talent Not Ended With Golf, Hockey

TORONTO (AP)—Hockey is a game where you soon learn to keep your head up if you intend to survive.

Golf is a sport where you remain a duffer until you learn to keep your head down.

Andy Bathgate has learned these lessons so well that, aside from being a pro hockey player of consummate skill, he's a good enough golfer to be taken on as assistant pro at a posh Toronto course.

And his talents don't end there. Blessed with the gift of gab, he has been hired by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as a sports commentator on a 2½-hour Saturday afternoon national network radio show.

Andy also has an unerring sense of direction. It's evident in the fact that during nine full seasons with the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League he has missed the 20-goal mark only once.

It's also obvious from the fact that on the golf course he has become no worse than a one-handicap player and has scored a couple of 65 rounds.

He never gets lost on the way to the bank either but that's because he makes the trip so regularly he can get there with his eyes closed.

For, with hockey, golf and radio, Bathgate figures to earn about $30,000 this year. He estimates that he's got at least four more seasons of hockey in his gimp knees.

Andy developed an interest in golf in Winnipeg where he was born a little more than 30 years ago.

"I was raised near a golf course and did a lot of caddyding, but I didn't become serious about the game until six years ago."

In Vancouver, where the Bathgates and their 17-month-old daughter have lived during the off-season in recent years, he won the city amateur tournament in 1960 and was low amateur in last year's British Columbia Open.

Several months ago he came to terms with Toronto's Northwood Golf Club where he hopes to concentrate on teaching, also taking part in three or four tournaments this year.

HERE'S HOWE—Detroit Red Wing hockey player Gordy Howe, most valuable player of the year, stands proudly beside evidence of his skill in another sport. He boated 12-pound sailfish off Miami Beach, Fla., while on vacation.

NFL Owners Hold Annual Spring Meet

ST. LOUIS (AP)—On the eve of their annual spring meeting, National Football League club owners did most of their talking privately about suspensions, trade rumors and alleged betting by Baltimore Colt President Carroll Rosenbloom.

Nothing startling was expected to emerge from the two-day meeting, which officially opened with a private session today.

The owners are meeting for the first time since Commissioner Peter Rozelle suspended Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers and Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions for betting on games.

When questioned Tuesday on how soon the suspensions would be reviewed, Rozelle answered: "I said at that time (last April) that the earliest possible time these cases could be reviewed would be after the end of the 1963 season or sometime in 1964. That still stands."

Asked what will go on at the meeting, Rozelle replied that "we're going to try to settle some of the things we tabled at our winter meeting in Miami. Outside of that, there shouldn't be anything startling."

On the agenda will be discussions of television and radio rights, the Pottsville, Pa. plea for the return of the 1925 NFL title, a disaster plan, player limit, players benefit fund and rule change recommendations.

Triplets to Graduate, Then Face Tryouts

PEABODY, Kan. (AP)—Garry, Harry and Larry Winter, identical 18-year-old triplets, will graduate from Peabody High School Thursday; and they have a try-out coming up next week with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Garry pitches, Harry catches and Larry plays second. They also were outstanding on the Peabody High football team.

School officials said they know of no other triplets graduating from high school in Kansas this year.

The tryout will be May 28-29 at Newton, Kan.

Bill White Gets Going For Cards

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill White of the St. Louis Cardinals remarked before Tuesday's game at Chicago, "It's time to get going."

He was talking about hitting, and he got going minutes later with three RBI as the Cardinals moved back into third place in the National League with a 5-4 victory over the Cubs.

Kansas City failed to gain ground in the five-team American League race, dropping two games back in fifth place by losing to the Yankees 7-4 in New York.

White, who had driven in just one run in eight games, slugged a two-run homer that gave the Cardinals a 3-2 lead in the fifth inning.

Chicago tied the score against Cardinal starter Curt Simmons, but Curt Flood singled home a run in the seventh and White followed with another hit that brought home the decisive run.

Simmons lasted 7 1/3 innings and got credit for his sixth victory in seven decisions.

Larry Jackson lost his fifth game, including two at the hands of his former mates. He has won five.

Mickey Mantle cracked two homers for five runs as the Yankees won their seventh game in eight starts.

Mantle hit a three-run blast off Orlando Pena, who lost his fourth straight game after opening with four consecutive victories. Diego Segui delivered Mantle's two-run homer in the fifth followed by a home run by Roger Maris.

Fight Results

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK — Luther Murphy, 194½, Phoenix, Ariz., outpointed Joe Shelton, 184½, Passaic, N.J., 8.

Garry, Harry and Larry are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Winters. They have three sisters—Sharon, 22; Melody, 5, and Koni, 5 months.

Winter said he can't afford to send the boys to college, and they plan to join the Navy in the fall unless the baseball club signs them up.

The tryout will be May 28-29 at Newton, Kan.

Bid for 1968 Olympic Games

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—Avory Brundage and other leading Olympic officials have thrown support behind the surprise bid of Berlin to play host to the 1968 Olympic Games.

"It would be a victory of sport over politics," Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee said in Lausanne, Switzerland, Tuesday.

He said the IOC welcomed the surprise bid by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

"This would be a great triumph for amateur sports and the Olympic movement and it would put political wrangling to shame," Brundage, president of the IOC, said in Chicago.

"It would be a triumph at last equal to the triumph we had when we had East and West Germany marching together behind the Olympic flag in the past two summer and winter Olympics," Brundage said.

Special NBA Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—A special meeting of the National Basketball Association is expected to approve the shift of the Syracuse Nats to Philadelphia today. The move will restore the NBA to Philadelphia after a one-year absence.

The meeting was called last week by outgoing NBA president Maurice Podoloff to discuss the sale of the Nats to a Philadelphia group.

Maloney No Joke To NL Opponents

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Maloney signed with Cincinnati on April Fool's Day, but he's no joke to National League batters.

The 22-year-old right-hander, who admits "I babied my arm too much" in his early days with the Reds, tied the modern major league record of eight consecutive strikeouts and fanned a total of 16 in a 2-0 victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Signed for an estimated $75,000 bonus in 1959, Maloney has had a slow rise to fame, but now stands along with 26-year-old Jim O'Toole as the aces of the Reds' staff. Between them they have recorded 12 of Cincinnati's 18 victories and pulled the club up to .500.

Things weren't so good for Maloney last year. When the Reds broke spring camp, he found himself farmed out. "I babied my arm too much, and I learned," says Maloney, "that I couldn't last nine innings just by standing out there on the mound and humming the fast ball."

Maloney apparently learned quickly. He finished the 1962 season with the Reds, posting a 9-7 record, and now is 6-1 with a sparkling 2.25 earned average. He is third in the league in strikeouts with 57, two behind Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax and one behind the Dodgers' Don Drysdale.

The Dodgers got a five-hit pitching performance from Johnny Podres, defeated the New York Mets for their seventh straight victory 4-2 and remained one game behind league-leading San Francisco. The Giants beat Philadelphia 3-2 as Billy O'Dell won his sixth without a loss.

St. Louis edged Chicago's Cubs 5-4 and Pittsburgh nipped Houston 6-5 in other games.

Maloney allowed only two hits in the 8-1-3 innings he worked. He started his string of eight straight strikeouts with Eddie Mathews in the first inning and kept whiffing Braves until Hank Aaron grounded out in the fourth inning. He had fanned 15 in the first seven innings, and had a good chance to tie or surpass the single game record of 18 held by Bob Feller and Koufax. He managed only one the rest of the way, however.

Maloney left after walking two men in the ninth and running the count on Norm Laker to two balls and no strikes. Bill Henry took over and finished up without any trouble. Frank Robinson drove in both runs against Braves' starter Bob Hendley with a first inning single and a third inning sacrifice fly.

Shutout by Galen Cisco for five innings and trailing 2-0, the Dodgers put it out of reach with three runs in the sixth inning on a two-run double by Willie Davis and a single by Dick Tracowski knocked in what turned out to be the deciding run. Ron Fairly chipped in with two doubles and

Reds' Pitcher Tosses Harder Than Anyone

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Take the word of the Milwaukee Braves: There isn't a harder throwing pitcher in the business than right-hander Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds.

The 22-year-old Maloney equaled the modern major league record of eight consecutive strikeouts and fanned 16 although he needed relief help Tuesday night in a two-hit, 2-0 victory over the Braves.

"I never saw anyone throw better," said Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews, who struck out three times. "Certainly, no one has ever thrown harder. And, believe me, the fast ball was moving. It sailed away from me."

"If anyone can throw any harder, I know I don't want to see him," said Hank Aaron, who struck out only once but was handcuffed in three other trips to the plate.

Maloney whiffed 15 Braves in the first seven innings and the modern major league mark of 18 shared by Bob Feller and Sandy Koufax appeared in danger. However, he failed to add to his total in the eighth and struck out only Aaron in the ninth before he needed help from reliever Bill Henry.

Elderly Medical Care Topic for Symington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said Tuesday something must be done to ease the problem of medical care for elderly persons.

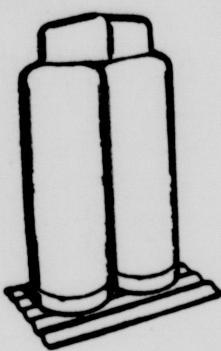

Need for action on old-age medical care is manifest, he said, in statistics showing United States income average in 1960 came to $5,315 a family and $2,570 a person for those under 65, compared with $2,530 a family and $1,055 a person for those over 65.

The Giants scored all their runs on homers with Jose Pagan's shot in the eighth inning snapping a 2-2 tie. Ed Bailey and Orlando Cepeda also connected for solo shots off Ray Culp, who went the distance for the Phillies and matched five-hitters with O'Dell. The Phillies had tied the game in the top of the eighth on Don Demeter's run-scoring single.

Bill White drove in three runs for the Cardinals with a two-run homer and a single in the seventh inning that brought home what proved to be the decisive run in a two-run rally started by winning pitcher Curt Simmons, now 6-1. Curt Flood singled across the tie-breaker and eventually scored the clincher on White's hit. Larry Jackson, a former Card, took the loss.

Jim Pagliaroni hit a three-run homer off Jim Ubricht, Colts reliever making his third appearance since recovering from cancer surgery, and put the Pirates ahead to stay 5-4 in the sixth inning. Bill Virdon's infield single in the ninth, however, drove in the deciding run.

Iowa College Takes William Jewell 3-1

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Wartburg College of Waverly, Iowa, defeated William Jewell 3-1 Tuesday in the first game of the NAIA Area 4 baseball playoff at Municipal Stadium.

Leon Carley scattered eight hits for his seventh victory against one loss. Jewell's lone run was only the ninth scored off the righthander in 62 2-3 innings, and only the fourth earned run. It was the product of a single by Jack Patterson and a double by Gary Kerr.

Jim Ibach was the losing pitcher. An error, two sacrifices, a walk and two singles produced two runs for Wartburg in the seventh inning. The second game in the best-of-three series and the third, if necessary, were scheduled for today.

Brownie Troop 397

Fourth Graders Have First Overnight Camp Experience

Thursday night, the fourth grade Brownie Girl Scouts of Troop 397 began packing bed rolls and sleeping bags for their first overnight troop camp in scouting.

Hurrying home from school Friday to finish packing, the girls then waited for their ride to camp. As soon as they arrived, at Sakajawea, the 26 girls and their five adult counselors arranged bed rolls in the craft house, where they were to sleep. The four Senior Girl Scouts made ready their tent.

As soon as iced tea was made, sack lunches were eaten. Wood was gathered for the evening campfire. Individual popcorn poppers were made from coffee cans and each girl popped her own popcorn around the campfire. The evening ended with the singing of several Girl Scout songs and rounds.

The next morning, each of the four patrols assisted by a Senior Girl Scout, fixed their own breakfasts and did their own cleanup. At first there was difficulty getting fires started, as the woodpile was dampened with heavy morning dew.

After breakfast, each patrol took a short hike. Plans for the Fly-Up ceremony next Tuesday were made. Girls are to invite their mothers.

Lunch was cooked over campfires, by the girls, assisted by their Senior Scout. The most successful lunch was a stew made by the Goony Greenie Patrol. After lunch cleanup, the girls made the camp ready. They rolled up bedrolls and tried to leave the area neater than it was found. Until time to go home the girls painted picnic tables.

Attending were: Trustees Patrol, Susan Owen, Patrol leader, Debbie Craig, assistant patrol leader, Debra Kay, Kathy Grayston, Beverly Lane, Laura Foote, Senior Girl Scout.

Rosebud Patrol, Janice Coffelt, patrol leader, Linda Keele, assistant patrol leader, Patty Horttor, Candy Estes, Debra King, Lucy Tompkin, Teresa Dowdy, Debbie Hopkins, Judy Yoder, Senior Girl Scout.

Butterfly Patrol, Mary Jane Siragusa, assistant patrol leader, Kathy Reyburn, Karen Miley, Lisa Flores, Joyce Reid, Janice Baker, Mary Talbot, Ann Murrell, Senior Girl Scout.

Class Officers Are Named At Sacred Heart

Hints For Happy Holidays

Safe, successful and pleasant vacations begin at home. To forestall burglars, fires and other dangers to an unattended home: • Lock doors and windows, including those in attic, cellar and garage. • Leave shades up. • Suspend newspaper, dairy, mail, other deliveries. • Arrange for someone to mow lawn. • To add to "lived-in" look, for a small outlay get gadgets which automatically turn lights on at dusk, off at dawn.

(1) Vacations Begin at Home

Unplug electrical appliances and turn off gas stove burners and water heater (but leave pilot lights on). It's a good idea to leave a key with a neighbor and tell him how he can reach you in an emergency. Also, let the police know you'll be gone so they can check the house on patrols.

CHECKLIST

- ✓ Unplug appliances, turn off burners, heaters.
- ✓ Leave house locked and with a "lived-in" look.
- ✓ Stop all deliveries, including mail (or have mail picked up). Arrange for lawn to be mowed.
- ✓ Let neighbors and police know you'll be gone.
- ✓ Don't leave valuable papers, jewelry around house. Put them in your bank deposit box.
- ✓ Just before you leave, check to see that you have your driver's license and any other necessary papers.

Ezra Benson's Son

Reed Benson a Coordinator For Anti-Red Birch Society

By R. GREG NOKES
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—When Reed Benson, son of former secretary of agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, stands before an audience these days, he braces himself for the inevitable questions: "Who do you say is the bigger Communist, President Eisenhower or President Kennedy?" "How can you in good conscience call the late John Foster Dulles a Red?"

Unfair as he thinks such questions are, Benson, in six months as a paid coordinator for the controversial John Birch Society, has had to learn to meet them head-on.

Benson, 35, is probably one of the best-known individuals to be attracted to the active ranks of the anti-Communist Birch Society. Certainly this is the case in his home state of Utah.

He is the eldest of six children of Ezra Taft Benson, an apostle of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) and one of only two members of President Eisenhower's original Cabinet to serve all eight Eisenhower years.

The younger Benson has himself been active in church and politics. He ran unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for Congress in 1962, losing by about 15,000 votes.

Thus, when Reed Benson announced in October he was going to join the John Birch Society and direct its activities in Utah, many eyebrows were raised. But if his father, a lifelong conservative, shared in the surprise, it didn't show.

In a statement, he said "I admire Reed's courage and applaud his decision." He added that the society is "the most effective non-church organization in our fight against creeping socialism and godless communism." He is not a member, however.

There has been considerable change in Reed Benson's life since joining the society. Vandals have struck at his home on several occasions; his every move is suspect to persons who oppose the Birch Society; and he has felt personally the criticism within his church.

Benson runs activities of the society from a cramped and book-filled office in his home. He indicated he gets close to $12,000 a year.

Benson says he is far from being wealthy, pointing to a $5,000 campaign debt he still must pay off. His attractive wife, May, works in the display department of a downtown department store. The couple have no children.

The Bensons rent a home from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rulon Hinckley, who direct a church mission in France. Although in a fashionable residential area, there is an ugly four-foot swastika on the front lawn that was burned there with lye about the time Benson became coordinator.

Origin of Names Of Flowers Told To Garden Club

Mrs. E. R. Knox presented an article on flowers and how they got their names at the May 16 meeting of Smithton Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Henry Schlottzauer.

A Swedish botanist, Carl von Linné, devised a system of botanical classification over 200 years ago, she said. He named many plants for friends and pupils, most having masculine names.

Mrs. Euel Muschaney read an article on trees, emphasizing information on the redwood and sequoia.

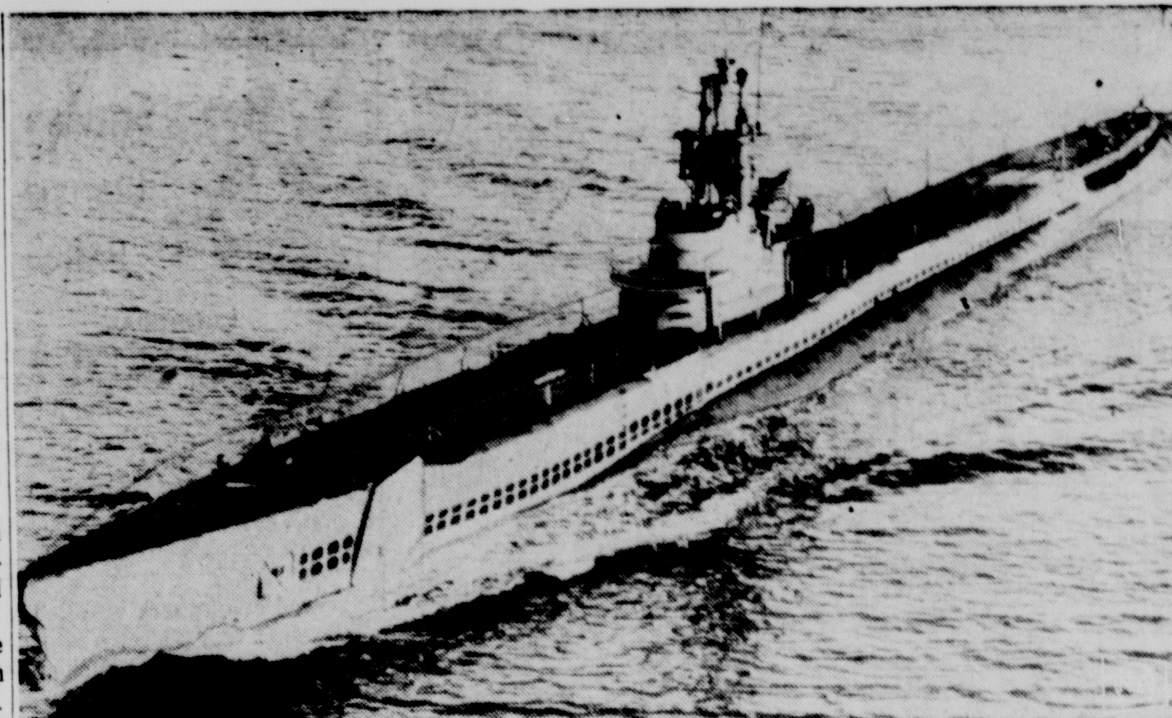

Miss Laura Kruse opened the meeting by leading the group in repeating the garden club collect.

A manual was ordered for the year.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. August F. Oehrke. The topic will be "Our Best Roses," with Mrs. Audrey Neumeyer as leader. Roll call will be answered with "My Favorite Rose, Exhibit, Arrangement of Roses."

Purchasing Loaf of Bread Requires Mental Blinders

By JOY STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Going into the supermarket for just a loaf of bread is like eating only one salted peanut—it simply can't be done.

There may be some purposeful individuals who can march straight to the bread counter, looking neither to the right nor left, but I am not one of them.

I have upon occasion managed to get to the bakery department without acquiring anything else along the route. But even when I reach that goal temptation assails me from every side.

If by putting my mental blinders on I can manage to separate a loaf of bread from its cupcake, pie, and other mouth-watering neighbors, I still am not safe.

It's an old grocery-store formula that the shortest distance between the bread department and the checkout counter is through a maze of shelves packed with resolution-shattering goodies.

To compound the brain-washing, big, bold signs announce that special values are to be had "today only." Reason tells me that those placards have been up for a week and are likely to remain for another. But there's always the chance I might never have another chance.

Not one to pass up a sale, I pick up two cans of okra from a display labeled in commanding "Save!" In the excitement of getting such a good buy I forget that at home in the cabinet rest two identical cans of okra from the last sale. My family doesn't like okra but I like bargains.

In my slow progress toward the checkout booth I manage to pick up jelly, which looks as though it would taste good on the bread I originally came in for, and at least four or five other items I just can't resist.

My bread-buying technique is amateurish, though, compared with that of my husband.

Send him to the store for the staff of life and he comes back with two bags full of the most exotic food this side of paradise.

He confines his shopping mainly to the gourmet department, a high-priced area I always pass with averted eyes and tightly closed pocketbook.

Fortunately, my husband does

Protest Slow Work On New Buildings

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Eastern Montana College students took up carpentry Tuesday night to protest what they called delay in construction of a dormitory, library and classrooms at the school.

Members of the student legislature worked through the night to erect a one-room schoolhouse, facing the school's main administration building. They painted it red, with a sign saying: "We want the best education we can get. Crowded library and living off campus deter us from this goal."

not go in for such specialties as fried ants and chocolate-covered grasshoppers. But he does lay in a supply of such glamorous snacks as smoked turkey and ham cooked in wine sauce. I have to admit that they would make lovely sandwiches.

There's only one drawback to that, however. He always forgets the bread he went to buy.

Dream That Became College Observes 100th Anniversary

By HAL MCCLURE

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—During the final phase of the Crimean War a New York tourist was startled to see a boatload of white bread moving across the Bosphorus.

Such commodities were in short supply and the visitor, a wealthy tea and sugar merchant named Christopher Robert, was curious. He learned that the bread was going to the British hospital at the Selimiye Barracks, the same hospital where a British nurse named Florence Nightingale had worked. A resourceful American teacher, Dr. Cyrus Hamlin, had made the bread to help earn money for the high school and theological seminary he operated outside Istanbul.

Robert decided he wanted to meet this enterprising man. The meeting, in 1856, changed both their lives. Hamlin had a dream which Robert helped finance: an American college in Turkey.

That dream, Robert College, is celebrating its 100th anniversary this week. More than 13,000 students of many nationalities and religions have attended it. Graduates have fanned out through the Middle East, to become prominent businessmen, ambassadors and statesmen.

It was rough going at first. Hamlin had five teachers to teach four students when the school opened in his old seminary in 1863.

He met mysterious opposition when he tried to build a new school atop a hill behind Bebek. He charged that France and Russia were pressurizing the Ottoman government to keep America out of the Bosphorus, an area they had considered their own.

The U.S. naval hero, Adm. David Farragut, was in Istanbul with part of the fleet on a courtesy call. Hamlin and friends persuaded him to bring up the subject of the college when he dined with the high Ottoman officials. The grand vizier (prime minister) finally gave permission to build at the present location.

Hamlin was a New England version of the Renaissance jack-of-all-talents. He could make a watch, a steam engine, washing machine—and, of course, a loaf of bread. He concocted his own cholera remedy and he lit the first electric light in the Ottoman Empire. He demonstrated the first telegraph in Turkey on a crude set sent by Samuel F. B. Morse.

He also could preach a mighty sermon.

Hamlin was born in Waterford, Maine, and went to Bowdoin College and Bangor Theological Seminary. He died at 90 in Portland, Maine.

The college and its academy have about 950 students now, only a small percentage of them Americans. Robert College boasts one of the best equipped audio-visual laboratories in Europe. Its science and engineering courses are outstanding. Students can also major in business administration, economics and languages.

Whatever Happened To Cheesecake?

By ROB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Whatever happened to cheesecake?

The one-hallowed Hollywood institution of leg art dates back to Theda Bara's heyday. It reached its peak in World War II, when the poses of Betty Grable, Rita Hayworth, etc., adorned foxholes and bulkheads from Saipan to Salerno.

Cheesecake impelled the careers of Marilyn Monroe, Jane Russell, Ava Gardner and a host of other lovelies, but alas, it has almost disappeared from the local scene.

The reason? Studio economics have slashed budgets for starlets and press agents. And styles change. Cuties in swim suits might seem tame in competition with the nudies of the men's magazines.

But here is a girl who could bring back cheesecake — Ursula Andress. Her eye-popping figure might make her the pin-up girl of the Space Age.

There is only one trouble: She doesn't want to be.

"I would feel like an idiot, posing like this," she declared, assuming the standard bathing beauty positions.

The only time she likes to pose is for her husband, actor John Derek, who has photographed her with handsome results, and when her film role calls for exposure of her magnificent frame. The latter happens in "Dr. No," in most of which she appears in a bikini or less.

Ursula is not even sure she wants to be an actress.

"Acting is so much work, and I am lazy," she commented.

You may have the impression that Ursula Andress is not the standard type of movie hopeful. Correct. She was Swiss-born of German parents, educated in Berne and Paris, went to Rome and broke into Italian films, then was called to Hollywood by Paramount.

There was only one trouble: Her French, German and Italian were excellent; her English was nil.

Paramount finally gave up on Ursula, and Columbia signed her. But then she married Derek and preferred to follow him on his film-making travels. When he settled here for a television series, she accepted the role in "Dr. No."

TROJAN TOUCH—French painter Nonda, who's exhibiting his work under the famed Pont Neuf bridge in Paris, erected a paper horse for shelter in midst of the show.

Best Foot Forward London Travel Group Gets An Inside Look at Chinese

EDITOR'S NOTE — Richard P. Lister is a 48 year-old British writer who has just come out of Red China following a three-week British Travel Agency tour. Here's his inside report on his first impressions of a country long barred to U.S. reporters, first of a series.

By RICHARD P. LISTER

PEKING (AP)—It's 7,000 miles from London to Red China. In 24 hours you are here if you have $1,540 to spend for a three weeks' tour—and the Chinese accept you. It works out at about 14 cents a mile.

Breakfast in London, lunch in Moscow, where most of the four-hour stop is spent filling in innumerable green forms demanded by rampant bureaucracy. One wonders if they are really friends, the Russians and the Chinese.

Nightfall in Omsk, thence the rivers and forests of Siberia, the next day's lunch in Irkutsk, which is such a natural sports center it seems like the Sun Valley of the Siberian future.

It's spring but snow falls on the Russian Ilyushin-28 of Chinese Airlines which takes off over snow-capped mountains and heads for Peking.

Plump Chinese stewardesses in international uniforms (no slit gowns here) serve you as the mountains sink down to the brown, featureless expanse of the Gobi Desert, Inner Mongolia and the Great Wall of China zig-zagging across the crests.

It's tea time on the second day as you land in Peking. The clock is crazy. Back in London it's breakfast.

Who makes this journey? Delegations of workers and trade unionists from the Communist world, politicians and technical experts, and now the first tiny trickle of tourists. We are tourists and more important, organized tourists. The agency in London saw to that. Individual tourists can make is served everywhere in China, at all hours. Every bedroom in every hotel has its enormous flask of hot water so that the traveler can have his tea on the occasional moments when n. one brings it to him. The drinking water is dangerous, unless boiled, so the tea somehow gets drunk.

Now, our "delegation" gets taken over by officialdom.

With our guide and an interpreter we strike out the next morning for the Imperial Palace—the forbidden city of imperial times—and then to the Great Hall of the People which is the Red Chinese parliament.

We're under surveillance, not because we're cloak and dagger types at all but because the Chinese want to be sure we don't become "incidents". Yet the system can be beaten and three of us did it. We found an English-speaking driver of a pedicab, a mechanized coolie cart. He pedaled with remarkable strength and energy, and had two friends to help pedal us about. We got to a theater where we saw a horse opera about the Sino-Japanese war. It was easy to follow and learn that the fascist warmongers got routed and the orphaned heroine winds up waving the glorious red flag of the still-distant tomorrow.

Rocky Must Reassess World Of Politics on His Return

EDITOR'S NOTE—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller soon will be reassessing the political situation. What can be expected to do if his political tell him that his recent marriage to a divorcee has damaged his chances for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination? How has the GOP marriage served to spotlight GOP difficulties over the religious issue? Jack Bell, veteran AP political writer, analyzes the situation.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—An intensive reassessment of the political situation will be the order of the day for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he returns from his honeymoon.

What his private political tell him about the political effect of his marriage to divorcee Margaretta Fitter Murphy could have a direct bearing on whether the governor plunges into an active drive for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination or merely coasts along awaiting developments.

If the indications are that his marriage has built up resistance to his nomination, the governor can be expected to tread water for a while until a new canvass can be made this fall. If relatively clear sailing is in prospect, he may step up his campaigning.

Rockefeller is a great believer in polls. He also is a man who plays his politics close to his vest, seldom confiding his plans in advance even to party allies. For example, he told Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., only 20 minutes before the ceremony that he was going to be married.

Keating, who declines to speculate about the political impact of the governor's matrimonial course carries the impression that Rockefeller has never made a final decision about seeking the nomination, for which he has generally been regarded as the front runner.

"He has never told me whether he expects to become a candidate," Keating said.

District GS Council Meets At the Library

The Heart of Missouri Girl Scout District IX met Tuesday at the Sedalia Public Library. Cookie sale money distribution was discussed. A called meeting will be held to give the money to the neighborhood chairmen for distribution to the troops.

Mrs. George Lockett, district chairman, reported on the council's efforts toward the keeping of Camp Sakajawea as a Girl Scout camp. Mrs. John Cairer, camp site committee chairman, reported on maintenance and repairs done since last month. The grass will be mowed this week before the Marshall State School and Hospital Girl Scout Troop arrives for its five-day overnight camp.

The possibility of selling Girl Scout cookies downtown this week and was discussed. Miss Myrna Sherrill, district advisor, reported and announced the checking of leaders' kits on May 18 from 10 a.m. until 12 noon at the Sedalia Public Library.

Attending were Miss Sherrill, Mrs. George Lockett, Mrs. Cairer, Mrs. John Horvath and Mrs. Harold Lane.

Disjoin Siamese Twins

Well, that's that! The Sedalia Police Department and the Sedalia Parking Meter Department are now recognized as separate and distinct agencies with separate and distinct functions.

This inference was tacitly accepted by City Council following a ruling of Counselor Earl Crawford concerning the status of parking meter men. This was in relation to the recently adopted Police Merit System.

As it stands, parking department employees may not come under the Police Merit System. This, however, does not keep them from aspiring to a position on the police force when one occurs if they can qualify and be accepted to fill a vacancy.

Under the new departmental separation arrangement there must be of necessity numerous changes in present practices to avoid conflicts of interest. No time was lost getting to the nub of this problem when immediately after council session the parking committee of which J. C. Griffin is chairman, Councilman E. B. Smith and Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin met to iron out the wrinkles in proposed different type uniforms and insignia for meter inspectors; elimination of side arms for meter men and any part-time police duty; allocation of overparking finest to the parking department fund, just to mention a few items.

The target date for instituting these and other changes is June 1. The alacrity with which these problems were approached Monday night by the public officials involved is certainly business-like procedure which meets public approval. It coincides with the practical observation made recently by Councilman Walter Jessee in regard to another piece of council business when he remarked:

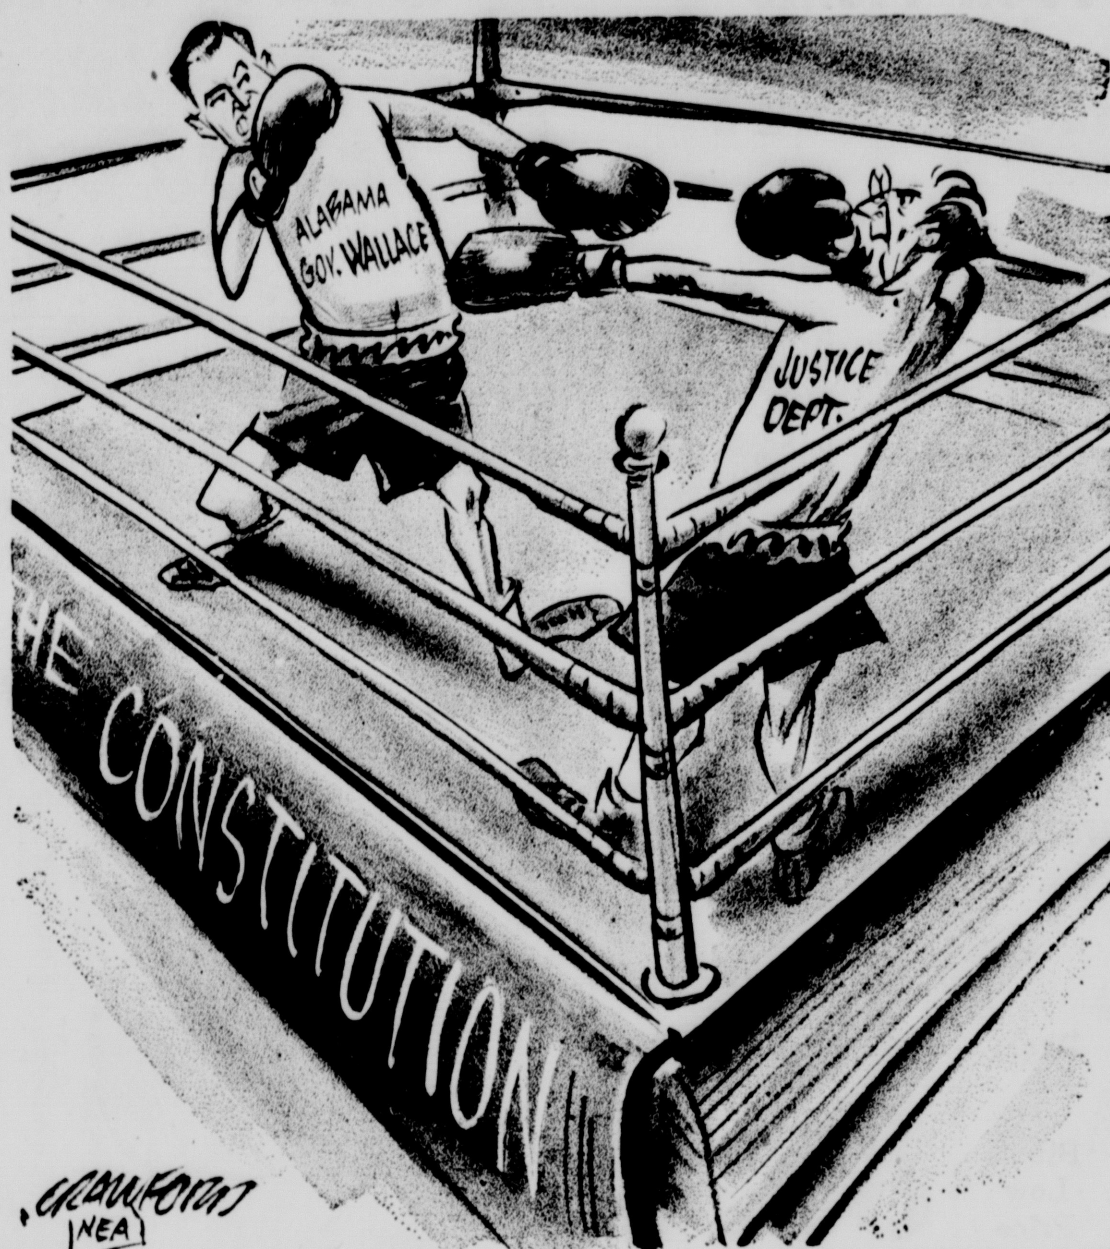

"I suggest we go on and get something done. Too many things seem to hang in the fire too long around here, and it's time to get some action."

That's the kind of plain talk taxpayers like to hear and also see implemented by performance. Councilman Jessee's motto ought to be framed and hung on the wall in council chamber.

The business-like procedure of the city solons Monday night, covering a heavy agenda, could well be a pace-setter that augurs well for future council activities.

In anticipation of this the public will be particularly interested seeing how council cracks some of the hard-shelled nuts already in the City Hall dish — like, for instance, the sewage disposal one.

Court Decision Clears Up One Thing

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court's decisions this week on sit-in demonstrations made one thing clear, left another up in the air, and may mean one of the justices disagrees with his ancestor.

The decisions have their roots far back in American history. Working up to them a step at a time, from the past to the present, makes them clearer.

After slavery was abolished by the 13th Amendment (1865), the 14th Amendment (1868) not only gave newly freed Negroes citizenship but assured them of equal treatment with whites.

Nevertheless, Southern states upon returning to the union began putting restrictions on Negroes. To offset this, Congress passed a number of civil rights laws. For instance, one that protected Negroes' voting rights.

The last one, passed in 1875, assured Negroes of the "free and equal enjoyment" of public transportation, inns, theaters and other places of amusement.

It seemed to mean there could be no discrimination against Negroes in a privately owned inn or theater.

But in 1883 the Supreme Court said Congress had gone too far and misunderstood the protections guaranteed by the 14th Amendment when it passed the Civil Rights Act of 1875. The court declared the act unconstitutional.

The court made its decision on five cases, only one of which came from the South. For example, two of them, one from San Francisco and one from New York, involved exclusion of Negroes from theaters.

Didn't the 14th Amendment say this couldn't be done? No, the court said. It said the 14th Amendment simply meant states could not pass laws, like a segregation law, to discriminate against Negroes.

It made clear the 14th Amendment didn't apply to what private businesses, like a theater, did on their own.

But one justice on the court at that time—John Marshall Harlan, grandfather of Justice John Marshall Harlan, who is a member of the present court—disagreed with that majority ruling in 1883.

He said, in effect, that railroads, restaurants, and places of amusement are not really private in the sense that a man's home is because they are "charged with duties to the public," are subject to city and state regulations, and therefore are instruments of the state.

The court in those days had little sympathy for the Negro's hopes for full acceptance in the American community.

A few years later (1896) the court majority—again with Harlan disagreeing—went even further and said it was all right for states to segregate Negroes so long as their treatment was equal to that given whites.

This remained the law of the land until 1954 when the modern court, reversing the court of the 19th Century, ruled that separate meant unequal and knocked out segregation in public schools.

Then this week the court ruled on a batch of cases in which a number of Negroes had been arrested, mostly on trespass charges, for sit-in demonstrations at lunch counters where they were refused service along with white people.

A court majority threw out the conviction. The reason: The store managers had been under pressure not to serve them. The pressure, the court said, came from state or city laws or local officials.

Thus the court went back to that 1883 decision which said the 14th Amendment prohibited states from compelling discrimination against Negroes. In short, this meant for the future:

The court was telling states with segregation laws not to arrest Negroes on a trespass charge when, protesting a restaurant manager's refusal to serve them at a white counter, they staged a sit-in.

But the court left unanswered the question raised by old Judge Harlan 80 years ago: Can an enterprise—run to make money off the public, like a restaurant or theater—discriminate against Negroes on its own without state law?

Justice William O. Douglas said pretty much what Justice Harlan said in 1883 although he was just giving his own views which were not the controlling opinion of the court majority.

He said there are few private enterprises, catering to the public, which are not under some state or city control or regulation. This, he said in effect, makes them public and not private and so they must serve all people.

But the present Justice Harlan was not in full agreement with Douglas or the rest of the court majority. At one point he said an "individual's right to restrict use of his property . . . lies beyond reach of the 14th Amendment."

This could be interpreted as meaning that, where there is no compulsion from state or local law, a private enterprise, like a restaurant, has a right to refuse to serve Negroes.

If this is a correct interpretation of his thinking, then he seems to disagree with his grandfather.

DEAR POLLY—When those old handbags have reached the point of no return and are cracked, marred or simply out of style, check them over for zippers. The zippers in bags usually can be used for a skirt or slacks or other garments.

MARIE
GIRLS — I always remove the zippers from clothing to be discarded and have been saved from buying many a new one. Also, buttons cut from old clothes can often be used again, particularly those from men's shirts.

POLLY
DEAR POLLY—Here is a good way to make an old girdle good to the last stretch. Save the metal hooks on the supporters and sew them to pot holders as hangers. They're much better than cloth loops.

MRS. H. L. M.
DEAR POLLY — This is not magic, but do try spraying some liquid wax on a paint brush and dust your shutters as if painting them. It is quick and does an excellent job.

M. C.
GIRLS — A friend tried the liquid wax on a brush attachment to her vacuum cleaner and found that also worked well for cleaning her indoor shutters.

POLLY
DEAR POLLY—When my twins were small, they often argued over a toy that both wanted to play with at the same time. I solved this by setting the timer on my stove and when the bell rang the child in possession of the toy at the time knew it was to be handed over to the other child. After explaining the "game" to them, the children readily gave up the toy when the bell rang. Not only was play time happier, but the children were taught courtesy, too.

The Doctor Says

Watchful Waiting Is Clue To Happy Pregnancy Period

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

While the normal pregnant woman should not "eat enough for two," she should be sure to drink 6 to 8 glasses of water every day, in addition to what is taken at mealtime.

This is because all the nitrogenous wastes from the growing child must be eliminated by the mother normally. This added burden on her kidneys will cause no trouble if she drinks plenty of fluids.

She should also avoid late hours and get plenty of restful sleep. This is an aid in warding off infection, or in making a good recovery if infection of any kind should develop.

The clothing should be loose and so arranged as to minimize pressure on the abdomen.

We don't hear as much these days about cigarettes stunting adult growth as we did 40 or 50 years ago. But there have been many reports that the fetus will be stunted if the mother smokes during pregnancy.

It is well known that nicotine causes a spasmodic constriction of the arteries. It is believed that either this constriction of the arteries in the umbilical cord, or a direct effect of the nicotine on the fetus, causes the babies of mothers who smoke during pregnancy to weigh generally 5 to 8 ounces less at birth than those born to nonsmoking mothers.

This may be related to the fact that smoking mothers also have a higher incidence of miscarriages and premature births.

Because the effect on the fetus of various drugs that might be taken by a pregnant woman are either unknown or are known to be harmful, no expectant mother should take any drug except on advice of her doctor.

One of the first things a doctor should determine when a woman becomes pregnant is whether there is a possibility of a clash of Rh blood types in the prospective parents. If, for example, a woman with Rh-negative blood should marry a man with Rh-positive blood there is danger their offspring will suffer from a blood ailment. This danger is even greater if the Rh-negative mother has had to have a blood transfusion in childhood.

If the Rh incompatibility is known in advance, the doctor will be prepared to take such steps as are needed to save the baby's life.

Pregnancy for most normal women is a period of happy anticipation and one which, with proper medical guidance, can be faced with confidence and a minimum of discomfort.

If, however any of the well-known danger signals are noted during pregnancy, an obstetrician should be seen without delay.

These signals are scanty urine, persistent headache, disturbance of vision, swelling of the face or feet, or loss of blood. They may not be serious, but they are warnings that should be heeded.

The Mature Parent

The Tragedy of Rage

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR Mrs. Lawrence: My husband has a very hot temper that makes him do things he doesn't mean. A week ago he called our 15-year-old girl a bad name. She has hardly spoken to him since. This is making trouble for me. He says I am encouraging her to treat him like a nothing in his own home. But she has not mentioned him to me and just clams up when I try to tell her he is sorry.

Answer: Oh, come on. He's not sorry for what he said. If he were, he wouldn't be complaining about its consequences.

People with "hot tempers" rarely regret them; they cherish them. They regard their capacity for rage as evidence of their superiority over cowed and contemptible persons who don't dare to rant and call bad names the way they can. Though they may say they regret their rages, what they actually feel is delight in their power to intimidate us.

I expect that this is what your daughter knows.

I don't have the slightest idea what you can do about it.

Like your husband, hot-tempered people usually become very sorry for themselves when their rages don't produce submission. They are astounded by our refusal to respond like another of the softies who populate the world for them.

Sometimes, if their delight in power has not destroyed all honesty with themselves, hot heads may be able to confess their pleasure in terrorizing us. But this is rare in most hot temper addicts. Most have used violent rage to express their contempt for other people since their childhood.

If they realized that we are not all the trembling rabbits their mothers were this would confront them with the awful task of revising their judgment of the world and their power over it.

They lose, of course, their children.

To anyone but a hot-temper addict, the distance your daughter has already placed between herself and her father would suggest the possible loss of all sympathy for him. Not so for the addict. In such a situation he can feel only an aggrieved sense of injustice that his rage has not produced what it's always produced—submission. This is his tragedy.

We the Women

Picture Story Houses Are Pretty But Are Not Home

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

No wonder the average homemaker leaping through a woman's magazine ponders glumly on why she "isn't living in a home like that."

The lawns of the "perfect" homes featured in such magazines are like green velvet. The flowers are a riot of bloom. The houses themselves are models of convenience and efficiency—a far cry from the less-than-perfect condition and the too-lived-in look of the envious reader's home.

I've just read a newspaper account of all the behind-the-scenes goings-on that make such model houses attain the perfection few housewives can ever create — much less maintain.

To begin with, this particular house that is destined to make readers discontented with their own abodes, cost money few women would have to spend on a house.

Before picture-taking time, the greenest of grass was brought in by nurserymen and laid like a carpet. Flowers in full bloom were set in place. Every model room was brought to the peak of perfection by such studied imitations of family living as a chess board set up on a living room game table, stacked, clean laundry arranged neatly in gaily colored for ironing embroidery work so that it looks smooth. Lay the embroidered piece upside down on a turkish towel. All the little spaces between the embroidery will be smooth as silk when ironed.

MRS. E. M.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

wicker basket tops in the laundry room, and so on.

All this work and planning, and hang the expense, to make women think such contrived stage settings are what their homes could and should look like, make it pretty hard on the harried homemaker.

"Why is it," she wonders, as she looks longingly at the magazine homes, "that my home can't look like one of these?" And that night she says, "Jim, we've got to do something about the living room." And Jim says, "Why? It looks fine to me."

Right at that point the average homemaker ought to forget the pretty magazine pictures and realize that she may not live in a model house—but, by George, she has created a HOME.

Aigrette is the name given to the long black plumes which the egret assumes during breeding season. Until these birds came under the protection of conservation laws, the fashion for these feathers caused the widespread slaughter of the birds and the consequent starvation of the nestlings.

WICHITA EAGLE: Oops!—Everyone knows some unhappy housewife who has thrown away the refund from the mail order house thinking it was advertising, but all of us expect banks to keep their wits about them.

That's why there was something refreshing in the story from San Francisco about the Federal Reserve Bank that somehow managed to mislay $7.5-million in negotiable securities. Officials can only speculate that they were burned up with the waste paper. They've ruled out theft as an impossibility, and they say no harm was done, since "they can write off the certificates as 'unissued.'"

That's fine, and the whole thing makes all us garden variety blunderers feel, if not actually efficient, at least a little less inadequate.

Dreams Hit Hard

The high school athlete who dreams of piles of sizzling steaks on the training table as one of his rewards is being asked to say bye-bye to a beautiful dream.

Philip L. White, Sec'd., secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, is the spoil-sport.

"Using your muscles and pushing your weight around increases caloric requirements, NOT protein requirements," says the doctor, adding that athletes' demand for meat in quantity is more psychological than physiological.

Science notwithstanding, athletes do not live by calories alone. So the good doctor is not likely to keep mom from keeping steaks com-

Nikita Jokes About It But Won't Quit

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Georgia Shukov, noted correspondent for Pravda, was explaining to an American friend in Moscow why he had quit as head of the cultural exchange committee on relations with the United States and gone back to work for Pravda. Premier Khrushchev was present during the conversation.

"I wanted to make way for younger men," explained Shukov.

"Look who you're talking to," protested Khrushchev, "does that mean you want me to make way for younger men, too?"

Zhukov fumbled for an answer.

While he was fumbling Khrushchev continued: "Hell, you're absolutely right."

Note—U.S. Ambassador Fox Kohler in Moscow has cabled the State Department not to take too seriously Khrushchev's recent statement warning that he might give up one or both of his jobs. Kohler believes Mr. K was just being sentimental. Other American diplomats recently returned from Moscow have the same impression. They say Khrushchev is in good health, excellent spirits and although he sometimes gets tired, is not going to quit anytime soon.

JFK and Lester Pearson

Lester Pearson and JFK made a lot of progress in their Hyannis Port talks in restoring better American-Canadian relations, but it wasn't all beer and skittles, as they would say in London.

Lester was notably skeptical about the nuclear-headed Bomarc missiles which his predecessor, John Diefenbaker, had scored.

Kennedy assured the new prime minister that, although the Bomarc cannot knock down an intercontinental ballistic missile, it can destroy supersonic planes, and he explained further that Russia doesn't have enough ICBM's to launch a successful mass attack.

Therefore, argued Kennedy, the United States and Canada must still rely on Bomarc's. The United States is not giving up its eight squadrons of Bomarc missiles and he urged Canada not to give up its six squadrons but rather arm them with nuclear weapons.

Pearson agreed to live up to previous Cana-

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

O. E. Droege, formerly assistant manager of the Swift & Co. Sedalia plant, has been appointed head of the dairy and poultry department of the entire company with offices in Chicago. Assisting the new head of the department will be another former Sedalian, Sam E. Boyle who has been with Swift in the Chicago office. He is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilks, 711 West Fourth street.

FORTY YEARS AGO

R. S. Robertson, Sedalia attorney, was appointed referee in bankruptcy for the Central Division of the Western District of Missouri, to succeed Holmes Hall, also a Sedalia attorney, who resigned.

—1923—

The Rev. Silas P. Bittner is new pastor of the Immanuel Evangelical church, Fourth street and Vermont avenue, succeeding the Rev. Henry Vieth. He and his wife and daughter drove overland to Sedalia from Bolivar, Ohio.

—1923—

The Pettis County Poultry club has elected the following officers: President, Gladys Dump; Vice-President, Hazel Fair; and Secretary, Mariatta Mittenburg. W. T. Angle, county agent, made a short address to the members who also include Lucile Rumsey, Mildred Dump, Mildred Fair and Margie Bayne.

ing to the table. And the delightful, mouth-watering, steak-based myth is likely to continue to sizzle in a savory manner for a long time to come.

dian commitments.

Ambassador for Fish

An "ambassador for fish" has finally been appointed in Washington — ex-Senator Ben Smith of Massachusetts whose family have been in the fish business for seven generations.

The elevation of the lowly fish to ambassadorial rank is the result of constant plugging by Sen. Warren Magnuson of Seattle, the chief Capitol Hill expert on all things pertaining to the ocean. He has pioneered studies of the oceans' depth minerals on the oceans' bottom, and now has succeeded in persuading President Kennedy to appoint an ambassador for fish.

Sometime ago Magnuson reminded Kennedy, himself an expert on fish, that the fish supply of the world would be in serious danger in 20 years unless something was done to preserve it. Mechanized sailing fleets and tremendous nets which cover five miles don't give the fish a fighting chance. Magnuson also pointed out that the fishing treaties needed to be revised so as to define the areas which Peru, Mexico, Russia, Japan and the United States can fish.

JFK's Popularity

When President Kennedy goes to Germany next month he will rate higher in popularity than any other world leader and probably higher than any German leader.

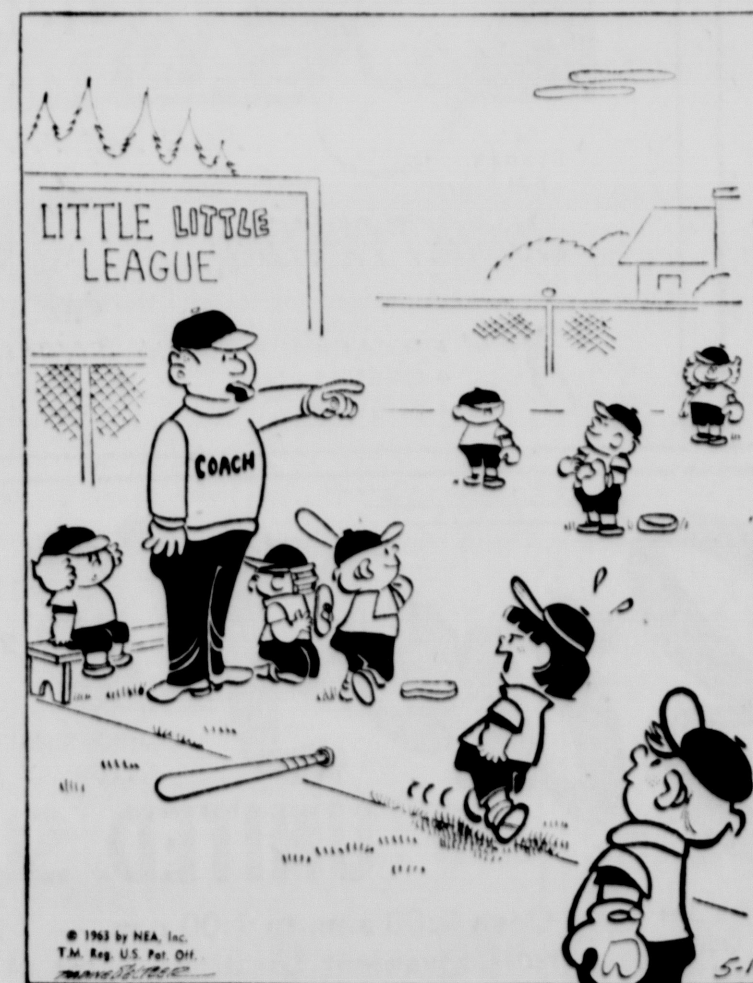

The International Social Studies of Germany has just completed a poll somewhat similar to the Gallup poll which puts Kennedy 70 to 7 ahead of Khrushchev in popularity. In answer to the question, "If you had your choice of world statesmen, whom would you invite to Germany?" JFK rated 70, Khrushchev 7, Nehru 5, De Gaulle 3, Prime Minister MacMillan 1, with 12 voting "don't care."

The Social Studies Institute then took another poll as to who should not be invited to Germany. Khrushchev led with 32, Nehru with 16, De Gaulle 7, MacMillan 7, and Kennedy only 2.

A third vote was held on whether Kennedy should go to Berlin, which came out 89 to 2 in favor of the trip.

Farwell To Smith-Cotton By '63 Class

Farewell to Smith-Cotton was the theme of the annual "Candle Service" Monday afternoon in the S-C auditorium when the graduating senior class of this year relinquished its duties and responsibilities to the incoming senior class of 1964.

The impressive and solemn ceremony began when Bill Brown sounded the "Call to Colors." The high school orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Schrader played the "Festival March" as the senior candidates for graduation in their gray caps and gowns entered the auditorium on the right, and the incoming senior class of 1964 dressed in suits and formals came in on the left.

Leading the procession for the seniors saying farewell were Bill Hopkins and Mary Elizabeth Van Dyne, outgoing president and vice-president of the senior student council respectively. Entering simultaneously were James Woods and John Lamy, president-elect and vice-president elect respectively. Sixteen graduating seniors and 16 juniors led by Mike McLeod, president of the graduating senior class, and Linda Gray, queen of this same class, and by Mike Robinson, president elect of the incoming senior class, and Kathy Kinshella, queen-elect of the senior class, then seated themselves on the stage amidst a beautiful setting of ferns and flowers. The remaining members of both classes seated themselves in the auditorium and then sang the school song, "Hail Alma Mater."

Hopkins, in his greeting, explained that the purpose of the ceremony was to say farewell and to invest the new officers of the senior student council and of the new senior class. McLeod then addressed the audience stating that the march by both classes in a circle symbolized the unbroken loyalty to the school and class, and he pledged the incoming president, Mike Robinson, wishing him success and God speed. Queen Linda Gray then handed her scepter, symbol of power and opportunity, to queen-elect Kathy Kinshella.

Miss Van Dyne gave the oath of office to John Lamy, and Bill Hopkins invested James Woods. Both Woods and Lamy pledged to uphold the tradition of leadership, scholarship, service and character which are the essential elements necessary for successfully carrying out the duties and tasks of the future. The students on the stage lit their candles one by one symbolizing the bond which holds the two classes together. They then sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

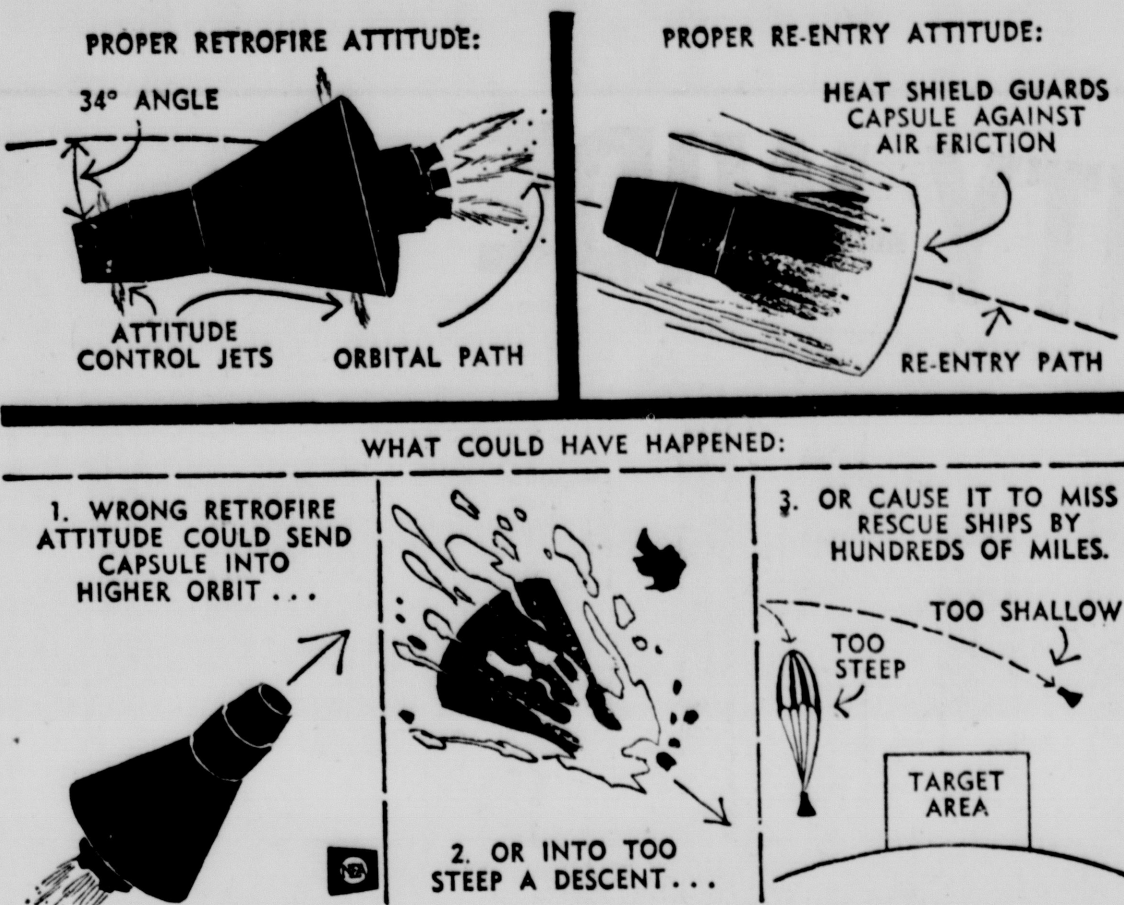

In his closing address, Hopkins thanked the citizens of Sedalia, the Board of Education, and the faculty members for all that they had done to make his class's 12 years in school memorable ones.

Lighting of candles again took place to the hymn of "God of Our Fathers." "Taps" were sounded by Bill Brown and echo "taps" by Kenny Fine.

The audience remained seated in silence while the junior and senior classes left the auditorium in a recessional played by the orchestra entitled, "Now the Day Is Over."

Miss Mila Swearingen, Mrs. Helen Mitchell, and Mrs. Thelma Cook and J. Wiley Atkins are co-sponsors of the junior and senior classes respectively.

COOPER'S CLIFFHANGER—Sketches above illustrate what did happen and what could have happened at the end of Gordon Cooper's 22-orbit flight. Using manual control alone, the Mercury astronaut had to put his capsule into the proper attitude (using small control jets), fire his braking rockets and then move the capsule into the proper re-entry attitude. Fate No. 1 befell a Russian unmanned spacecraft on May 15, 1960, when it was accidentally kicked into a higher orbit. Had this happened to Cooper, he would have eventually run out of oxygen and suffocated. Fate No. 2 destroyed a Russian spacecraft, also unmanned, on Dec. 2, 1960. It descended at too steep an angle and was incinerated in the atmosphere. But even a small deviation from the ideal could have landed Cooper far from the recovery area. As the world knows, he hit it right on the button.

Garbage Disposal Units Sworn By and Against

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A housewife in Detroit dumps her table scraps down the kitchen sink—as she is required to do by city ordinance.

Her counterpart in New York City is forbidden by ordinance to do that. The city's drainage system has to struggle as it is after a torrential rain and can't take on any more household waste.

Jasper, Ind., says it saved $13,000 a year in garbage collections by ordering all homes to use a disposer gadget under the kitchen sink—not to mention the $420,000 for a modern treatment plant it had been ordered by the state to build, or else.

And so it goes with the garbage disposer industry across the nation.

Some communities swear by them, some at them. Some say they're a form of health insurance; some say they could be damaging. Even more cities leave it up to the householder.

The appliances sell big in California and in scattered parts of the Midwest and Northeast. Sales are slow in the South.

The makers are aiming this year at selling one million of the kitchen gadgets, compared with 350,000 just 10 years ago.

Their chief bugaboos are the 400 or so communities that forbid use of the garbage disposers. Some, like New York, fear the overtaxing of the city sewers. Some worry about what the addition of more bacteria and grease may do to their treatment plants.

The 150 or so communities that require the under the sink garbage disposers stress the collection savings and the curbing of disease spreading by insects and rodents. They insist that the addition to the grease and bacteria problem at treatment plants is comparatively small.

Among the makers are Waste King Corporation of Los Angeles, In-Sink-Erator Manufacturing Co. of Racine, Wis., General Electric, Westinghouse and National Rubber Machinery Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Quinten A. Hammes, president of In-Sink-Erator, estimates there are 7½ million disposers now in use. He says the average life expectancy is seven to ten years so that a replacement market is building up. The industry also counts on placing more in the new homes that are still going up at a sprightly rate.

NEW YORK (AP)—You're going to spend more this year. You might as well get used to the idea now.

Part of this will be because prices will be higher, all the way from sugar to steel. You'll notice the sugar price increase first, because very few buy steel as such. And there's a long road indeed between the price rise at the steel mill and the increase, if any, in the gadget at the store or the dealer's.

And on most other things you buy the price will change little, if at all.

But you'll be shelling out extra money this year, producers feel sure now, because you want more expensive things—from food to autos.

And much of this increased spending, the government experts tell us, will be because many American families will have higher incomes—along with the fact there'll be more families.

The Agriculture Department expects Americans to spend $77 billion for food this year, or 4 per cent more than last year. But it quickly adds that this will be just about 19 per cent of personal incomes after taxes, while last year 19.3 per cent went for food.

Most food prices will be stable, it thinks. Some will fluctuate with the fickleness of the weather.

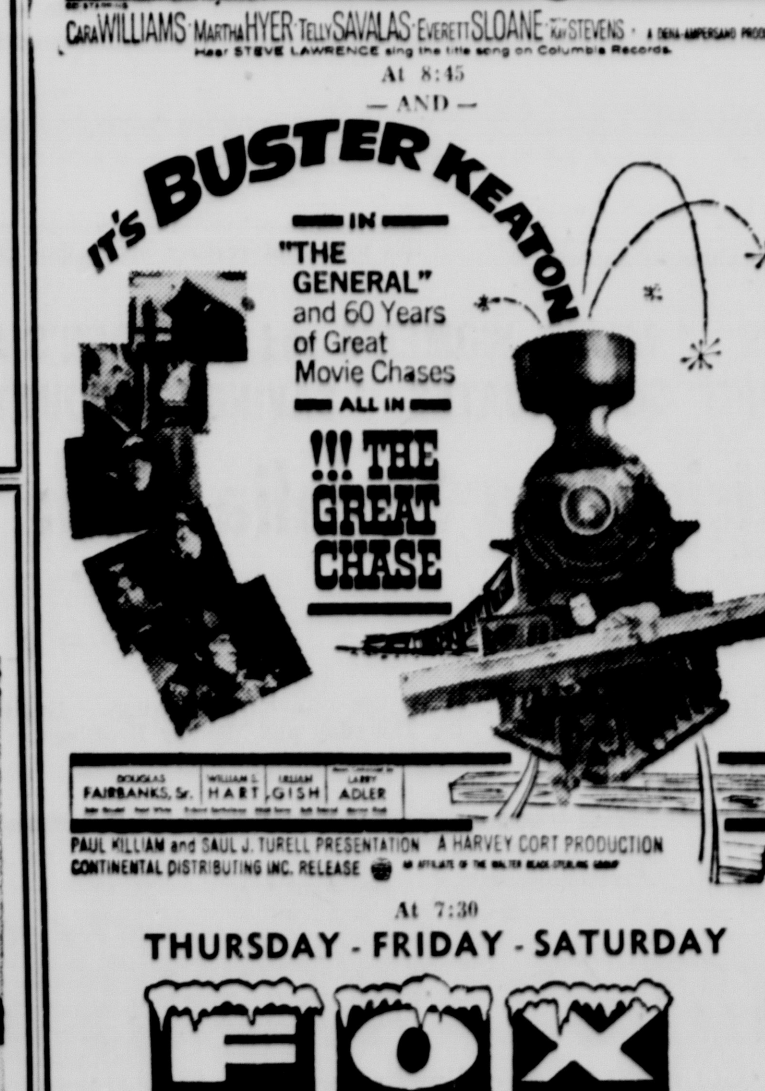

Sugar is different. Refined sugar prices have gone up again—the 12th increase this year. This may surprise most housewives, used for years to government controls that have held the price fairly steady.

But the price at the refinery in the New York area is now $14.20 per 100 pounds, up $4.40 since the start of the year. The U.S. government for years has managed the price by increasing or decreasing the quotas of foreign sugar that could come in and there usually was a world surplus on which to draw. Today the world supply is so tight that the price is set outside this country. Much of this is due to the sharp decline in Cuban production, now forbidden to enter this country. And much is due to rising demand for sugar around the world as other nations become more prosperous and have more mouths to feed.

Rising prices of refined sugar may soon spread beyond the supermarket shelves. Producers of soft drinks, ice cream, candy and cake have to pay more for their sugar, too. And as competition permits they may raise prices.
